REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,
GEORGE WALLACE DELAMATER,
Crawford County.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,
LOUIS A WATRES,
Of Lackawana County.

FOR SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS,
THOMAS J. STEWART,
Of Montgomery County.

An Indianapolis woman 37 years old, has her ninth husband in tow and is doing nicely. May the Lord have compassion on her for the other women wont

Immediately after the convention at Scranton Wallace, *H*ensel and Wright took to the woods and they haven't been seen since. Hadn't the democratic party better offer a reward for its stray cocks? You know, in their dazed condition, they might stray into the wrong barnyard.

It was Idaho that made the race and entered the Union ahead of Wyoming, which will follow within a few days. the Senate having caused the delay by stopping to amend the enactment Wyoming waits outside, while Idaho is having a round of welcome in the inside just ahead of her.

A Philadelphia Judge having decided that it is against the law to shave on Sunday, many of the Quaker city young ladies can be excused if they show up after after an evening in the parlor with their best young man, with one side of their faces looking as though a scrubbing brush had been used thereon. It was mean of the Judge, and he ought to be ashamed of himself.

Poor old Wallace! He went to New Yor immediately after his political burial at Scranton. He had not courage and good temper enough to come home and face the music. He is going to devote himself to railroading in the future. Politics are a fraud, a delusion and a snare. They are too dishonest for a gentleman so averse to chicanery as Mr. Wallace is since he kost his coffee pot.

The changes in the demands of the business of some men are as fluctuating as the New York stock exchange. Two weeks ago William A. Wallace, of Clearfield, could see his way clear to enter a gubernatorial campaign. Now the urgent prees of private business demands his immediate presence and protracted sojourn in Europe, and he may not even have time to come home to vote for Pattison.

The Democrats hope to win this fall because Pattison is a Methodist and Pat-Tison expects to secure the Irish vote. Black is a farmer and a granger and drinks nothing stronger than picnic lemonade, and they expect him to command the farmer and the granger and the prohibition vote. Barclay lives in Pittsburg and he is expected to work on the sympathies of Chris Magee and thus knock out the Republican majority in Allegheny county. All that is yet necessery to do the business is for Pattison to have his church throughout the State hold festivals to raise a campaign fund and then "He's all right!"

THE YOUNGEST SISTER.

Idaho is now a state of the Union, the forty-fourth in number. Wyoming preceeding her by a few laps over the course to Commonwealth preferment. For the time being Idaho, therefore, will be recognized as the youngest sister, and her claims will be governed and respected accordingly.

There now remain only six territories —Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Oklahoma and Alaska. Among all the many euphonimous names of states none are more pleasing to the ear than Wyoming and Idaho. These two states are as yet small of population and comparitively undeveloped as to their natural resources, but in the course of time they will speedily merge into splendid proportion and grow great in power.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

We take the following brief biographical notices of the democratic nominees from the Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

R. E. PATTISON.

The candidate for governor, Robert E. Pattison, was born at Quantico, Md., December 8, 1850. His father was a Methodist minister and subsequently removed to Philadelphia, where Robert was educated in the public schools, graduating from the high school in a class that contained many boys who afterward became known in public life.

He studied law in the office of the late Lewis C. Cassidy, who was then a leading democratic politician in Philadelphia, and in 1877 Mr. Cassidy procured his student's nomination for city controller. The republicans were torn with factional wrangles among leaders and Mr. Pattison was elected by a plurality of 2,611. In 1880 he was renominated and elected. This election brought him the nomination for governor in 1882 and, owing to the nomination of John Stewart by those republicans who opposed James A. Beaver, the republican nominee, and the nomination of Thomas A. Armstrong by the greenback labor party, Mr. Pattison was elected by a plurality.

He was appointed a member of the Pacific railways commission by President Cleveland and made a minority report that occasioned much comment.

Since his retirement from the office of governor he has been at the head of a Philadelphia bank.

He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and takes an active interest in all church affairs.

CHAUNCEY F. BLACK.

Chauncey F, Black, the candidate for lieutenant governor, is one of the best known democrats in Pennsylvania. He was born in Somerset county, 1839. His father, Judge Jeremiah S. Black, was one of the noted members of the American bar, and to his son he inculated many of his own principles and instilled into him many of his views of public measures. He was a candidate for the same office in 1882, with the same head of the ticket, and was elected, He is a man of scholarly tastes and much given to phenomenal discussion in magazines. He has been an editorial writer for years on the staff of the New York Sun, and there propounded many of his views on public questions.

He was the nominee of his party for governor in 1886, but was defeated by Governor Beaver by a large majority. Since that time he has lived quietly at his beautiful villa in a suburb of York having a comfortable fortune with which to gratify his literary tastes.

WILLIAM H. BARCLAY.

Captain William H. Barclay, who was nominated for secretary of internal affairs by the democrats, is well known throughout the western part of the state. He was born in Uniontown in 1840 and lived there until early manhood He enlisted in the 'Friend Rifles' of Pittsburgh in 1861 and went with his company to New York, where the Rifles were attached to the Seventieth regiment New York volunteers. He served under McClellan in the Peninsula campaign, and was afterwards transferred to Hooker's division. In 1862 he was relieved from active duty on account of disability and became chief clerk under Quartermaster Ludington in the field. He served in that capacity until the close of the war.

After being mustered out of service he went to the Rocky mountains as the representative of several mining companies and remained there until 1877. In that year he became associated with C. P. Markle & Co., paper manufacturers at West Newton, Pa., having charge of their Pittsburgh warehouse. He subsequently was paymaster and purchasing agent for the McClure Coke company. In 1887 he was appointed pension agent by President Cleveland and has since that time filled that office creditably. His district extends throughout the counties west of the Susquehanna river. His disbursements have nearly been $5,000,000 annually.

The recent political developements in Indiana point undoubtedly to an alliance between the New York Hill faction and the Indiana Democrats. Cleveland has lost a fine strategic point. If the Hill people go into the democratic convention with the two doubtful and almost decisive States, New York and Indiana, back of them, as it looks as if they would, they will have an advantage that will be hard to overcome.

Volcanoes and Tidal Waves.

[We are permitted the privilege of publishing the following interesting letter received recently by one of our citizens.—Ed.]

New York, June 22, 1890.

My Dear Sir: —

I never knew until the receipt of your note Prof. Dana's estimate of the size of Vesuvius as compared with Mauna Loa.

After relating an old story, which I am in hopes you have never heard, I will give you my impression of Vesuvius as compared with other volcanoes.

A Chicago man, travelling in Europe and boasting what his country contained, was met by an Englishman who admitted great greatness for the United States but, while doing so, said 'yes; but you have no Vesuvius,' "No," said the Chicago man, "we have not; but we have a Niagara Falls that can put the d—n thing out in five minutes.' Most persons, with whom I come in contact have read more and seen more of Vesuvius than any other of the great volcanoes.

They have charged to her account more loss of life and property than to any other. Looking back so far as A. D. 63, when Pompei and Herculaneum were seriously demaged, and taking into account the loss of life and property A. D. 79, when those cities were entirely destsoyed, and following the course of Vesuvius through all the centuries that have passed since, it does not appear to me that the loss of life and property caused by all the eruptions of Vesuvius, from the time of Nero and Titus to the time of John Wanamaker, has equalled the loss sustained a few years ago by Krakatoa; which is situated on the Island of Krakatoa in the strait of Sunda and belonging to Java. The Island is about 7 miles long and about 5 wide.

At the time of the great disaster, in 1883, I was in London and remember reading in the Times that the Dutch authorities estimated the loss of life at 70,000, and that to property was so great that no attempt was made to estimate it. Java has a population exceeding 20,000,000. Sumatra, I think, half as great; the narrow strait of Sunda divide the two

Capt. Pennyton, of the ship "Civilian," left Batavia two days before the great eruption and shock, of which I am speaking, took place. He entered the strait without knowledge of the great damage that had been done, or the great changes that had taken place. He told me last year that the entire strait, and for one hundred miles out in the Indian ocean the sea was covered with foam lava, floating and looking like cork. Every lighthouse was destroyed. Islands, that were on his chart, had disappeared and new ones were thrown up. So much for Krakatoa.

My own experience with tidal waves, the result of volcanic eruptions, prompted me to read much about them.

I have witnessed great damage and fearful scenes while they were in commotion; notably the one that entered the harbor of Hong Kong in 1874. I was stationed there at the time and from the hills saw every ship in the harbor wrecked.

The Pacific Mail Company's steamer "Alaska," moored with 90 fathoms of chain out on each anchor, was driven high and dry not less than fifty yards from high water mark, and it took me four months, with two hundred men, to get her back into the water. The loss of life at that time was estimated by the English authorities at 30,000.

A few years previous to the Hong-Kong disaster Fuyokomo, the most beautiful and one of the largest cones in the world—14,000 feet, which is three times that of Vesuvius—had slight trouble, the first time in centuries. Tida waves followed causing the destruction of three men of war in the harbor of Nangasaki, Japan. One Russian Frigate, 30 guns and crew of 400, was driven into the town and at this day a portion of her bones remain there.

Vesuvius, with all her trouble the past 1900 years cannot boast of such slaughter of human life, and destruction of property, as other monsters of her kind.

We have all read much fiction regarding Pompei.

The standing walls of Pompei or the relics in the museums of Naples do not furnish evidence of the splendor or great wealth equal to the description both you and I had read before we explored the place.

I never "enthused" over Pompei or its antiquity. Egypt, China and Japan, with their 6000 to 7000 years of history and relics of ages and ages before the Oscans settled Pompei, which, after all, was only 300 B C., always seemed young compared to what I had mused and dreamt upon.

I am, yours truly,
H. W. H.

Note.—Speaking of the eruption of Krakatoa in 1883, Dr. T. M. Coan says "It is estimated that a cubic mile of mountain was hurled into the air, and an air-wave, caused by the convulsion as indicated by self-registering barometers at scores of different stations, was transferred three times around the entire circumference of the earth within eleven days." SOME CENSUS RESULTS.

In almost every State of the Union the results of the census, so far as the important cities are concerned, have been given out by the Supervisors. The results are generally made up from the enumerators,' postal cards and are approximately correct. Though complaints are coming in from some Western cities that the population is not equal to expectations, the growth of our suburban population as a whole is likely to equal, if it does not exceed, the estimate of the most hopeful. The number of cities that will go from about 30,000 to over 100,000 will be greater this decade than in any previous decennial period while cities like Birmingham, Ala; Chattanooga, Tenn; Duluth, Minn; Seattle and Tacoma, Washington; Houston and Fort Worth, Texas, and many others that will leap from towns of less than 10,000 to thriving cities of over 30,000 will delight the souls of the optimistically inclined.

If an increase of 300, to 400, and, as in the case of Birmingham, Ala., 1000 per cent. does not come up to local expectation, it is folly to even attempt to gauge the immensity of the local imagination in the boom towns of the North and South. Hard, indeed, is the lot of the Census Supervisor and enumerators in such places. Nothing short of a city directory padded to the local taste and then multiplied by five as representing the number in each family will be likely to satisfy a community so wildly "gone" on its own power to increase and multiply.

Another class of cities hard to satisfy are such places, for example, as Kansas City and St. Louis. It is a well known fact that in the first named place the population has actually decreased in the last twelve months, and yet even the Supervisor sent this pathetic telegram to the Superintendent of Census, at Washington:

"Kansas City, June 17, 1890.—Population of Kansas City, 47 per cent. below my estimate. What shall I do?"

To which the Superintendent of Census promptly replied.

"Do? Why, don't make estimates.

There is no reason to doubt that the eleventh census will be the most accurate ever taken, and yet wherever the people have been making wild estimates about the population they are naturally disappointed and will remain so until the returns from all the towns and cities are in. Then the sentiment will change. Comparatively speaking, the growth will be more than satisfactory, more than could reasonably be expected, and will show, upon the whole, a progress which should make us all rejoice.

Now as to St. Louis, which seems to be the most dissatisfied of all the large cities. To begin with, St. Louis, unlike some of her sister cities, has, in the last ten years, not increased in territory. In March the total number of registered voters was only 71,765. Since the taking of the last census, in 1880, some of the largest manufacturing industries such as the Vulcan Iron Works, the Harrison Wire Works and the Belcher Sugar Refinery, have shut down, and the thousands of workmen employed, with their families, have sought employment in other cities. Other industries, owing to a lower rate of taxation and cheaper land, have gone to East St. Louis, Ill. The increase in population of the towns of Kirkwood, Webster, Grooeu and Ferguson, in St. Louis County, is largely due to accretion from business men who have built themselves suburban residences there, while entire new towns have sprung up in the same manner just beyond the city limits These are cold facts, which St. Louis will have to face even in a recount. The authorities at Washington will be justified in using every safeguard to prevent any attempt at fraudulent enumeration such as that in 1870, and to prevent the padding of the recount in 1880.

The official count of the population of the country is now being made at Washington. Every schedule has to be counted twice and the two counts made to tally. Already the electrical machines have counted what is equivalent to 10,000,000 of the population twice. At this rate it is only a question of how soon will all the schedules reach Washington, for within a few days of the receipt of the last schedules we may expect the official count of the population upon which the next apportionment will be based. Then the census question will change from one of local pride to national politics; from one of local advantage to the adjustment of our great political forces for the next decade. Surely the interest clustering around the census and its myriad branches is immense.—Press.

HOT WEATHER PERIL.

Many persons are overcome by heat on account of neglect or ignorance of the means of avoiding the accident Whatever depresses the general health such as previous sickness, especially diseases of the nervous system, anxiety, worry, overwork, irregularities in food and intemperate use of alcohol, predisposes to heatstroke. Personal uncleanliness which prevents the healthy action of the skin; the wearing of tight garments, which impede the functions of the heart and lungs, and living in illy ventilated, overcrowded and unsanitary buildings predispose to heatstroke.

In very hot weather the clothing should be loose, and as much woolen as possible; linen and cotten goods impede perspiration and the free access of air to the body. The predisposing causes mentioned above should be carefully avoided. A person should take as much sleep as possible, with all the fresh air obtainable during sleep. The body should be bathed frequently. Letting cold water run over the hands and fore arms has great influence in cooling the heated blood, and the face and head should be bathed frequently.

For quenching the thirst in hot weather nothing is better than water with a little lemon in it, carbonated waters or buttermilk. A headache is a warning that should not be neglected; the same is true of nausea and giddiness. These call for rest in as cool a place as can be found, and the taking of cooling drinks. Very little meat should be eaten, and sweets and oily foods should be avoided.

These are rules laid down by eminent physicians.

Silver Wedding.

Friday marked a notable event in the life of Perry E. Gates and wife. The Fourth of July was of interest to this well mated couple, not only that it brought the anniversary of their nation's freedom, but also the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Shortly after the close of the late rebellion, Rev. Wm H Groh, then of Boalsburg, Pa., on July 4th, 1865, united Perry E Gates and Annie E Heberling in marriage. Ever since they have lived in happy wedded life, esteemed by all who know them. Their present home is at the Shoenberger farm, near Birmingham. At this home, on invitation, came at least forty guests. The table was set in the spacious grounds and was laden with the best of the season.

The happy couple of twenty-five years standing were the recipients of numerous and valuable presents in silverware The following is the list of guests: Mrs Joseph Heberling, Thos Heberling, Mrs Cyrus Cronister, Mr and Mrs A J Mattern, Rev H M Oberholtzer, Mr and Mrs Samuel Ralston, Mr and Mrs John Burket, Mr and Mrs George Dixon Mr and Mrs Jacob Mattern, Mr and Mrs Olive Rumberger, Mr and Mrs John Mingle, Mr and Mrs George Grazier, Mr and Mrs William Wolf, Dr and Mrs Crawford, Mr. and Mrs John Patton, Mr and Mrs Isaac Beck, Mr and Mrs David Buck, Mr and Mrs Dillet Buck, Mr and Mrs. Scott Buck, Mr and Mrs Edwin Keatley.

Church Sociable.

This Thursday evening, July 10th, the ladies of the M. E. church will hold a church sociable in the lecture room of the M. E. church. All the seasonable festival delicacies will be down on the bill of fare, including ice cream, cake, etc. In addition to the above W I Swoope, Esq., will add to the attraction of the sociable by reciting suitable selections and Miss Stott will also materially assist by singing solos. There will be other music and a burlesque art gallery. We must say that the ladies of the M. E. church are bargaining to give a good entertainment for a very nominal price. All should attend.

Last winter Mr. Lamar Foote, a Connecticut man, filled his ice house with snow, and thus saved $15. The snow kept fairly well and, although it did not answer for his ice pitcher, it did for meat, fish, milk and so on, just as well as ice. It is a hint to others.

GENERAL NOTES.

During the last year 42 colleges received gifts of money amounting to $2,675,000.

France has more than a quarter of a million carrier pigeons trained for war purposes.

An artesian well was put in a beet sugar factory in California that flows 500,000 gallons in 24 hours.

The twentieth anniversary of a wedding is never celebrated. It is considered very unlucky to do so.

The India rubber tree grows wild in Lee county, Fla., and in Fort Myers it is used as a shade and ornamental tree.

A lecture committee of Stockton, Cal., has received a note from H M Stanley that he will speak one night for $1,200 guaranteed.

A Hungarian paper announces the death of a veteran of Waterloo, aged 105 years, in his native village, Hatzeg in Transylvania.

A well known Chinese of Virginia City says the census enumerators refused to take their names unless they were paid 75 cents to $1 for each name.

A magpie that has just died in Meriden, Conn., could call all the members of its owner's family by name and was quite a fluent conversationalist.

Dr. Meredith, a Brooklyn preacher, has established a second reading room for workingmen, where no restriction is placed on smoking cigars and pipes.

A rich deposit of gold has been struck on Logging creek, Mont., about 25 miles southeast of Great Falls. One portion of a ledge six feet wide averages as high as $3,100 to the ton.

For some years B D Merchant, of St Helena, has picked blackberries from a large bush in his yard. This year the crop of berries was large, but the berries are all white in color.

The "living" portion of the White House is quite small, consisting only of five bedrooms on the second floor and the dining room and one other room on the first floor.

A huge tower, 11 stories high, is to be erected at South Kingston, R. I., and dedicated to the advent of modern Spiritualism, by Joseph P Hazard a wealthy Spiritualist of that place.

James Melvin, of Concord, Mass., has for 12 years lain upon a bed without changing his position. The osseous portions of his body have united into one piece, and from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet there is not a joint responsive to his will.

Samuel Hinckley, of Weston, is 88 years old. He was married in 1882, and two children have risen up to bless him and bother their heads as to whether they shall call him papa or grandfather.

A "fossil forest" has been discovered in Scotland. Thirty or forty fossil trunks have already been laid bare, most of which are gray freestone. One of the trunks is at least two feet in diameter.

The people of Sisson say they can see nothing wrong with the peaks of Mount Shasta. The general belief is that if any change has taken place it is owing to the sliding of a mass of accumulated ice and snow.

Two preachers, named Pershall and Critchfield, have been tried in Sprague, Wash., for settling a dispute about land by gunning. The latter was severely wounded, when he pulled a knife and attacked Pershall, who took to his heels.

Among the seven prisoners recently received at the Walla Penitentiary was McCool, the robber of the Seattle relief fund. He was so fat that the tailor was put to work at once to rig him in a suit of bed-ticking cloth. He is in for seven years.

On a recent trip North a party of men stopped over night on a ranch at Elko, Col., and when the lady of the house showed one of them to a room she remarked by way of apology: 'You will find the bed kind of hard. We took the hay out of the mattress last winter to feed the starving cattle.'

A wonderful poplar tree was recently cut in Logan county, Virginia. The log measures 97 feet long, is 63 inches in diameter, cubes 1,090 feet, or 21,125 feet board measure. It will be run out on the first water that will carry a log of such dimensions. It is probably the biggest log ever cut and sent to a saw mill in one piece.

While two men were hunting cows near Fort Myers, Fla., their dogs treed a large black bear. They determined to secure the animal, but had no weapons except pocket knives. These they tied to long poles, and climbing the tree after the bear, thrust their knives into its neck until they cut an artery, when it bled to death.

The reason the Democratic State convention put Mr. Barclay, of Pittsburg, on the tail end of the ticket has been explained. He won $75,000 from the Louisiana State Lottery a few months ago. His bar'l is what was considered, likely when it came to completing the ticket.

VETERANS AT PORTLAND

Annual Reunion of the Army of the Potomac.

GEN. SHERMAN'S SPEECH.

The Great Changes That Have Occurred Since the Grand Review in Washington in 1865—An Amusing Story of Gen. Taylor—Officers Elected.

PORTLAND, Me., July 5.—Over 1,000 members of the Association of the Army of the Potomac, including all the leading officers of the organization, attended the annual reunion here in the city hall, which was gaily decorated for the occasion. In different parts of the hall were seen corps flags denoting the location of various corps. Among the prominent officers who occupied the seats on the floor were Gen. Sherman, Gen. F. A. Walker, Hon. Horatio King, Gen. Fitz John Porter, Gen. Selden Connor, Gen. Collins, Col. Horace C. King, Gen. Hodges, Gen. Dickinson, Gens. Locke, Clarkson, Berle, Van Vliet, Broadhead, Devens and Howard, also officers of the war vessels in the harbor.

The meeting was called to order by Gen. Collins, who presided in place of Gen. Park. Gen. Walker was introduced and delivered the oration.

Gen. Walker Speaks.

After referring to the growth of the country and of Washington since the final review of the Army of the Potomac in that city in 1865 he referred with touching pathos to the depletion of the ranks, to the deaths of Grant, Sheridan, Meade, McClellan, Burnside, Hooker, McDowell and other leaders of that great army. The day of the remaining veterans was over, "but," he said, "no one can take from us our certificates of honorable discharge or diminish the part we had in the nation's deliverance. Whenever we see the statue of one of our heroes dedicated, whenever we hear some moving tale of the war in Virginia, whenever we see some crippled veteran halting in his steps, each of us may stand up and proudly cry, 'I, too, was of the Army of the Potomac.'"

Gen. Sherman to the Veterans.

After Hon. Horatio King's stirring poem had been read, Gen. Sherman was introduced and was received with tremendous applause. "I have learned," he said, "since I have been upon this stage that the grand review in Washington terminated when the Army of the Potomac passed. It reminds me of a story Gen. Taylor is said to have told to an applicant for office in Washington who urged his claims from having been at Buena Vista. Gen. Taylor said he had heard of so many things having occurred there that, although he had thought he was there himself, he had come to the conclusion that he was not there at all. Now, I have so many fresh memories of that grand review that I think I was there, and I think that review occupied three days.

"The first day the Army of the Potomac had the floor, and I was upon the stage at that time, as I am now, taking notes of the positions, that I might profit by them; for, if you remember, the armies of the west did not have a fair reputation for order, drill and discipline. You got your news of us through rebel sources, and we chased them for 1,800 miles into your very camps. They had not a very good opinion of our western armies, and we found that even the authorities at Washington shared that opinion. They thought we were rather liable to disorder. Now, I assure you, my friends of the Army of the Potomac, we were a better drilled army than you were. I know it because I was their commander.

The Review at Washington.

"I was on that stand at Washington before Meade, President Johnson and the cabinet had gotten there. As Meade wheeled into the White House grounds, up came Custer, and some lady flung him a wreath—one of those circular wreaths—and in trying to get it his mare made off with him and he went by like a shot. And Custer was not reviewed at all and his brigade of cavalry would not have passed muster on the Champ de Mars in Paris. The horses were good, the men were sublime, but not good looking for review." After good naturedly criticising the somewhat disorderly appearance of the Army of Potomac, Gen. Sherman says he instructed his men to march in the old accustomed way and they did so. The general continued:

What the Art of War Cost.

"After the reviewing was over I contend that your review was over but mine was not. The two constituted a thing of magnificent proportions, creditable to both. As to the patriotism within their hearts, as to the principles which moved those great masses of men to a common purpose, we need not speak, because history has treated of it for twenty-five years. But upon the simple question of instructions and discipline we can take lessons to the very last day of our lives. Gen. Walker did not give an account of the cost in human life in furnishing that bold cavalry, nor the great corps that furnished the war with the muscle and brain. I do believe, as I do believe in him who rules over us, that this country spent $10,000,000,000 and 100,000 precious lives to teach them the art of war. Let your children digest these thoughts well and give credit to all alike, and remember this country extends over the continent and is not confined to one part, and that there are good people everywhere."

Hon. Hannibal Hamlin Present.

Hon. Hannibal Hamlin was then called for and was greeted with three cheers. He spoke briefly, thanking the society for the reception and expressing pleasure in being present. Gen. O. O. Howard was the next speaker. He was followed by Gen. Devens, who paid a high tribute to Gen. Walker, the orator of the day. Admiral Gherardi and others also spoke. An invitation was received to hold the next session at Buffalo, and it was unanimously voted to accept.

The Officers Chosen.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Gen. Selden Conner, Maine; vice-presidents—First corps, Gen. I. M. Hedges, New York; Second corps, Gen. John D. Billings, Massachusetts; Third corps, Gen. T. H. Detrobriand, Louisiana; Fifth corps, Capt. Nathan Appleton, Massachusetts; Sixth corps, Col. Redfield Proctor, Vermont; Ninth corps, Gen. F. W. Swift, Michigan; Tenth corps, Col. George B. Dyer, Washington; Eleventh corps, Gen. O. O. Howard, U. S. A.; Twelfth corps, Capt. H. P. Sargent, Maine; Nineteenth corps, Gen. George L. Beal, Maine; cavalry corps, Gen. S. L. Chamberlain, Massachusetts; staff corps, Gen. James Dickinson, Washington; recording secretary, Col. H. C. King, New York; corresponding secretary, Gen. George H. Sharpe, New York; treasurer, Col. Samuel Truesdale, New York. Gen. Sherman was elected an honorary member. The meeting then adjourned.

DEAD IN THE RIVER.

A Mother Suicides with Her Young Babe Clasped to Her Breast.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A man, woman and child committed suicide in Hoboken because the father of the family was unable to pay a mortgage of $25 on their household furniture, and which was about to be foreclosed. Frank Wentland, his wife and child lived in apartments at No. 146 Park avenue, Hoboken. Wentland is a writer for musical papers. He had but little to do and got behind in his expenses.

A friend of the family, a woman whose name has not yet been disclosed, loaned the Wentlands $25 and took a mortgage on all of their personal property. She went before Justice Rush and secured an attachment on Wentland's property.

This worried him greatly when he heard of it. In the morning Landlord Henry Kaiser, from whom the Wentlands rented their rooms, got a letter from Frank Wentland, which said that on account of the faithlessness of the woman friend he and his family had sought death by drowning. Landlord Kaiser immediately went to police headquarters with the letter. Sergeant Ratgen told him that the body of the with her child clasped to her heart had been found drowned at the foot of the Fifth street dock, North river, whereupon Kaiser went to the morgue and identified the bodies. The little boy was but five months old. Mr. Wentland's body has not yet been found.

A Fearful Accident.

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 5.—By a lamp explosion at the house of Adam Stainler, a butcher at Bradenville, on Tuesday night, a son and daughter of Mr. Stainler, aged 3 and 6 respectively, were burned to death. Mr. Stainler was in bed suffering from fever, and the children were in the room playing. The mother had gone out. Suddenly the lamp exploded, and the burning oil was thrown over the room, and the children's clothes took fire. Mr. Stainler jumped from his bed and made an effort to save the little ones, but fell exhausted, and when the mother returned a moment later she found them all literally roasted. The cries of Mrs. Stainler brought the neighbors, and the flames were extinguished after much difficulty. Mr. Stainler will probably die, and his wife was also seriously burned.

Maj. McDowell Nominated.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., July 5.—The Republican conferrees of the Twenty-fifth congressional district have nominated Maj. Alexander McDowell, of Sharon. The conference has been in progress for some days. There were five candidates—Capt. C. C. Townsend, the present incumbent; Newton Black, of Butler; Col. O. L. Jackson, of Lawrence, who was in the Fiftieth congress; J. C. Brown, of Mercer, and McDowell. Nearly two hundred fruitless ballots were taken. The nomination of McDowell was accomplished by three of Townsend's conferrees going over to the Sharon candidate. Capt. Townsend is now serving his first term. He is a resident of Senator Quay's home county of Beaver and has had the support of that gentleman for a second term.

The Ninety Days' Fast.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 5.—The condition of Lehigh county's fasting woman, Mrs. Adam Wuchter, of South Whitehall, six miles west from here, is exciting increased attention in the medical profession. The doctors now declare that the faster cannot survive many days. Mrs. Wuchter has taken practically no substantial nourishment for ninety days. On Good Friday, April 4, she tasted food of a solid character for the last time. Since that time a sup of beef tea, taken at intervals of several days, has been her sole source of nourishment. She cannot even drink water now, and is failing rapidly. When in normal health, about a year ago, Mrs. Wuchter weighed 136 pounds. Now she weighs less than fifty-five pounds.

Can't Agree on the Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Nothing resulted from the second meeting of the senate and house conferrees on the silver bill. Propositions to make all silver certificates heretofore issued full legal tender and to make customs duties payable in gold were made, but they were not acted on. The main point at issue—that of free coinage—was not touched upon, and the conferrees adjourned to meet on Saturday. Meanwhile the Republican members of the conference will endeavor to reach an agreement. The Democratic members say they will stand firm for free coinage.

A Joker Causes a Boy's Suicide.

COLUMBUS, O., July 5.—Willie Mayle, a 13-year-old boy, of Upper Sandusky, came to Columbus to spend the Fourth of July, and was stopping with his uncle, Charles Snyder. Willie had trouble with another boy, named Willie Fuchs, who called him a name, whereupon Mayle threw a stone at Fuchs which missed him and hit his sister, a little girl, but not seriously injuring her. Some one told Mayle the police were going to arrest him as he nearly killed the girl, and he ran into the house, got his uncle's revolver, placed it to his head, blowing out his brains.

The President Off for Cape May.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The president left Washington city yesterday for Cape May Point, where he will spend the Fourth of July with Mrs. Harrison. Although no definite plans have been formulated, it is probable that he will not return to this city until next Tuesday evening, and may perhaps not come back until later in the week.

Canada Wants Independence.

MONTREAL, July 5.—At the annual banquet of the Club National, Hon. Wilfred Laurier, leader of the Liberal party in Canada, said: "Canada cannot always remain a colony. The time must come when we will take our proper position in the world, and for my part I favor independence."

The Election Bill Indorsed.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 5.—The Republican state executive committee urged that congressional nominations be made, but deem it inexpedient to nominate a state ticket. They indorse the election bill and condemn southern Republicans who oppose it.

Ex-Secretary Whitney Home Again.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Ex-Secretary Whitney and Mrs. Whitney returned from their European trip yesterday and went to their Newport cottage today. Mr. Whitney says the rumor that he is to become the leader of Tammany hall is baseless.

Dixon and McCarthy to Fight Again.

LONDON, July 5.—The Pelican club has agreed to offer purse of $5,000 for a fight between George Dixon and Cal McCarthy, the fight to be for the bantam championship of the world. The Pelican club will allow McCarthy $500 for expenses.

A FATAL PRIZE FIGHT.

Brennan, of Chicago, Killed by Frank Gerard.

GRIM DEATH WAS REFEREE.

Brennan Was Knocked Down and His Head Struck the Platform a Terrible Blow, Which Caused Concussion of the Brain—Ball Refused.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Frank Gerard, of Brooklyn, and "Billy" Brennan, of Chicago, boxed at Battery D with probable fatal results to Brennan, who is now apparently dying. Brennan is a good middle weight fighter, but Gerard was too heavy for him and had too long a reach. The occasion was the long talked of match between Ashton and Glover, the Gerard-Brennan match being a preliminary bout, but owing to the injuries to Brennan, Ashton and Glover did not appear.

A Frightful Fall.

It was evident from the start that Brennan was no match for the Brooklyn man, but the Chicago lad was plucky and stuck to it. He was being rapidly winded and was growing weak, when Gerard made a rush, and after striking Brennan a heavy blow fell upon him with all his weight. In falling Brennan's head struck the platform violently, and concussion of the brain was the result.

Brennan Lay Motionless.

When Gerard rose Brennan lay motionless and Gerard became frightened. Time was called and a physician called for, who at once declared Brennan's chances for living very small. He was carried to his room, where he now lies at the point of death. Gerard was arrested and held by the police, though the affair was undoubtedly an accident, the concussion not being the result of a blow, but the fall. Gerard was refused bail.

Another report of the fight says that Brennan is dead.

Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The president has approved the act providing for the sale of the navy yard and United States Naval hospital lands in Brooklyn, N. Y.; the act granting certain privileges to the Union Railway company of Chattanooga, Tenn.; authorizing the erection of a hotel upon the government reservation at Fortress Monroe, Va.; the joint resolution providing for expenditure of the unexpended balance of $99,439 for discharging claims of letter carriers for extra compensation under the eight hour laws, and authorizing J. B. Bernaden, U. S. N., to accept two vases presented to him by the government of Japan.

The Pope's Ill Health.

ROME, July 5.—The physical condition of the pope is declining. His eyes have taken on a fixed look. Notwithstanding his advanced age the venerable pontiff's intellect remains surprisingly active.

There is no foundation for the report that the pope is to arbitrate in the Anglo-American question about the seal fishing in Behring sea. The pope's examination into the judgment pronounced on the appeal of Dr. Burtsell against Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, continues. The whole matter will remain secret for eighteen days.

Robbed at a Revolver's Point.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 5.—Capt. William Bradley, a well known resident of Greenfield Hill, was awakened early in the morning by two masked burglars who entered his room, and, by threatening his life with a revolver, compelled him to tell where he had $60 concealed. This they took and then went into the cellar and carried off a quantity of provisions. Bradley, who lived in the house alone, made his way to a neighbor and gave the alarm. Excitement is at fever heat and lynching is strongly talked of if the robbers are found.

Superintendent Porter's New Appointees.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The following named special agents among others have been appointed by Superintendent Porter to collect statistics of manufactures: Albert H. Kirkham, Springfield, Mass.; J. E. Baldwin, Newton, N. J.; J. H. Love, Jersey City, Hoboken and Bayonne, N. J.; Joseph Losey, Washington and Oxford, N. J.; Isaac N. Van Doren, New Brunswick, N. J.; Samuel B. Ogden, Elizabeth and Rahway, N. J.; W. H. H. Gere, Syracuse, N. Y.; William J. Montanye, Cortland and Homer, N. Y.

They Want to Lynch the Murderer.

QUINCY, Ills., July 5.—E. D. Smith, who was shot by a burglar Saturday morning, has just died, and only the wisest counsel prevented the populace from attacking the jail with a view to lynching the murderer. Sheriff Seatoh, supported by his deputies, carefully guarded all the approaches to the jail, and the murderer for the present is safe from an angry multitude. The victim from this unprovoked attack was a prominent Mason, and was regarded as a leader among secret society men.

Business of the Boiler Men.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The boilermakers' convention adopted a committee's report in favor of the association forming an insurance company of its own. The debate was very heated. The vote was 18 to 5. The convention decided that apprentices serve a term of six months' probation and three and a half years as apprentice. After that he must be two years a journeyman, after which he may be ranked as a master workman.

McAuliffe and Slavin Matched.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A cablegram from London to The Police Gazette says R. K. Fox has posted $2,500 with The Sporting Life for a fight between Joe McAuliffe and Frank Slavin, the Australian champion. The fight to take place according to London prize ring rules for from $2,500 to $5,000 a side.

A Defaulter's Heavy Sentence.

TRENTON, N. J., July 5.—Capt. Soer, the defaulting Newark postoffice clerk, was sentenced by Judge Green in the United States court to two years and six months in the Essex county penitentiary and to pay a fine of $4,523.

The Tariff Bill Comes Up Monday.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Senator Morrill, chairman of the finance committee, says that the tariff bill will be called up Monday to the exclusion of the river and harbor bill or any other measure.

New Jersey Defeated.

BOSTON, July 5.—The Boston Athletic club cricket team defeated the New Jersey Athletic club cricketers by a score of 125 to 107 with one inning to spare.

DOWN TO DEATH.

The Fearful Plunge Three Virginia Miners Made.

BUENA VISTA, Va., July 5.—A horrible accident has occurred at the Buena Vista iron mines, one-half a mile north of this city. There are 200 laborers employed by the company for day and night work. At 4 o'clock the night men were called off and the hoist was let down in the mine to convey them to the top. Six men boarded it, and all went well until within ten feet of the top, when the shaft gave way, causing the rope to break. Three of the miners leaped for their lives, and two succeeded in clinging to the siding until they were rescued. The four unfortunates were hurled down the shaft, a distance of 150 feet, to the bottom.

The dead are as follows: Eli Painter, John Montgomery and Lit Sneed, killed outright. Floyd Marion had his collar bone broken and received internal injuries, but will probably recover.

A LOVER'S REVENGE.

Fiendish Attempt to Drown His Inamorata's Young Daughter.

NANTUCKET, Mass., July 5.—While the 14-year-old daughter of L. S. Farnham was on her way home from a neighbors she was beset and nearly drowned by a man who sixteen years ago figured as a rejected suitor of the girl's mother.

W. J. Appleby, the man who is accused of committing the act, rushed upon the young girl as she was strolling near the shore, threw a rope around her and, dragging her to the surf, forced her to deep water and left her there to drown. But his supposed victim is an expert swimmer, and after a severe struggle managed to regain the shore. Upon arriving home she told her story, and among other details says that as Appleby dragged her towards the water he exclaimed:

"If I cannot have your mother's life I will have yours."

The authorities are after the assailant.

The Bridge Bandit Shot.

NEWBURG, N. Y., July 5.—John Levsen, an ex-police officer, Thursday, shot and probably fatally wounded George, alias "Tony," Sarvis, the famous captain of the notorious bridge bandits, and a nephew of Marshal Sarvis, of this city. Levsen was seated at his tea table when Sarvis passed by with some companions and entered a vacant lot. There was a reward of $100 for the arrest of Sarvis, and Levsen wanted it. As he entered the field Sarvis drew a revolver and fired. Levsen returned the fire and a dozen or more shots were exchanged. Levsen received three bullets in the lower limbs, but none of them are serious. Sarvis was struck in the hand, and another bullet entered his back near the spinal column. The latter wound will probably prove mortal, and the coroner has taken his ante-mortem statement. Levsen has been placed under arrest pending the results of Sarvis' wounds.

A Gladstonian Triumph.

LONDON, July 5.—The parliamentary election at Barrow-in-Furness resulted in a victory for the Gladstonian candidate. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Mr. W. S. Caine, a Liberal-Unionist, who wished to test the feeling of his constituency regarding the licensing clauses of the local taxation bill relating to the compensation of publicans, and who resigned just before the clauses referred to were dropped by the government. The vote was as follows: Mr. Duncan, Gladstonian, 1,994; Mr. Wainwright, Conservative, 1,802; Mr. Caine, Liberal-Unionist, 1,280. In 1886 Mr. Caine was elected for Barrow-in-Furness by a vote of 3,212, against 1,802 for Mr. Ainsworth, the Home Rule candidate.

A Drunken Fiend's Deed.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Henry Colwell stabbed his wife, Louisa, seven times in the hallway of the tenement 179 East Eighty-fifth street, where they lived. He was arrested and attempted suicide by cutting the veins of his leg. His wife was taken to the hospital, and will probably die. He was in a drunken frenzy when he committed the deed. But for the action of Mrs. Mary Borden, who was visiting Mrs. Colwell, and who bravely struggled with Colwell until he was exhausted, Mrs. Colwell would have been killed. Mrs. Colwell had applied for a divorce on account of her husband's drunkenness and failure to support her.

Consular Appointments.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The president has sent to the senate the following nominations: Adam E. King, of Maryland, to be consul general of the United States at Paris; H. N. Allen, of Ohio, to be secretary of the legation of the United States to Corea. Charles Heath, of Massachusetts, to be consul of the United States at Catania, Italy; James J. Paterson, of West Virginia, to be consul of the United States at Merida, Mexico.

His Winnings Will Just Pay His Fine.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 5.—Nagle and Power were tried under a new law on a charge of leaving Canada to engage in a prize fight, which is a misdemeanor. They pleaded guilty, and then counsel stated in extenuation that there had been little or no fighting. They were fined $100 each, and were given a warning against such conduct in future. They were tried under a new law. Power's winnings in the stake will just pay his fine.

Shot in the Back.

RICHIE COURT HOUSE, W. Va., July 5.—A sensational murder has occurred here. Jacob Tingles and Joseph Echard, both wealthy farmers who had been attending court, quarreled on their way home, and Tingle shot Echard in the back, inflicting a fatal wound. Tingle is under arrest and the feeling against him is very bitter.

A Mexican War Veteran's Shame.

BOSTON, July 5.—George Watson, the Mexican war veteran, 68 years old, who pleaded guilty to falsely personating a number of deceased veterans as pensioners, and who was also found guilty of perjury, received upon the first charge a sentence of five years and $1,000 fine and on the second two years' imprisonment and $100 fine.

A Girl Student Drowned.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., July 5.—Laurie Ashbrook, aged 18 years, a student, residing in the suburbs of Philadelphia, was drowned in Sarnac lake while bathing last evening.

He Broke the World's Record.

CARSON, Nev., July 5.—N. H. Johnson has broken the world's 125 yard running record at the Agricultural track. His time was 12 1-5 seconds, beating the former record by 3-10 of a second.

The Spanish Ministry Resigns.

MADRID, July 5.—The queen regent has accepted the resignation of the cabinet, and the sittings of the cortes have been suspended, pending the formation of a new ministry.

A German Novelist Very Ill.

BERLIN, July 5.—Friedrich Spielhagen, the German novelist, is seriously ill with typhus fever.

MR. HAWLEY'S WRATH.

The Connecticut Senator Severely Scores Senor Pierra.

THE BRAZILIAN'S OFFENCE.

He Criticised Secretary Blaine and the United States' Delegates to the Latin American Congress and Was in Turn Denounced.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—In the senate messages from the president were presented, as to Indian lands in Kansas; as to postal and cable communication between the United States and the Latin-American states; as to the celebration of the fourth centennial of the discovery of America, and as to the agreement between the Cherokee commission and the Iowa Indians in the Indian territory. Mr. Plumb offered a resolution which was agreed to calling upon the secretary of war for information as to whether articles were being manufactured at the national military home in competition with private enterprises, and the reason and authority for it.

Concerning Union Pacific Matters.

Mr. Plumb also offered a resolution calling on the secretary of the interior to inform the senate whether he has any knowledge of the guarantee, actual or proposed, by the Union Pacific Railroad company of the bonds or stock of any other corporation, more especially those of the Oregon Navigation company and of the Denver and South Park Railroad company; whether the Union Pacific Railroad company has paid out of its surplus earnings or otherwise the indebtedness or any part thereof of those or other companies, and if so whether such guarantee or payment or both is in accordance with law and consistent with the obligations of the Union Pacific Railroad company to the United States, and the secretary is directed to communicate all information in the possession of his department on this matter. The resolution was agreed to.

A Land Office Affair.

Mr. Berry sent to the desk to be read, papers concerning the charges that unusual facilities were afforded a firm of Washington attorneys in the land office. They included a letter sent by the attorneys (H. W. Combs & Co.) to the clerk of Columbia county, Ark., offering to supply patents in that county for $4 each (the clerk to retain $1); a letter from Acting Commissioner Stone, extending these facilities to the firm, and a letter from Assistant Secretary Bussey, of the interior department, certifying to the reputable character of the firm. Mr. Berry said that one member of this firm—Thomas H. McKee—was an officer of the house of representatives. The question was discussed without action.

Mr. Vest and the Subsidy Bill.

Mr. Vest resumed his argument against the subsidy bill. He said he was as anxious as Mr. Blaine to open the ports of South America to American products. He sincerely desired the extension of commerce, and that the American flag might again be seen in every port and on every sea. But the question was one as to the means to bring about that end. The senator from Maine (Mr. Frye) wanted subsidies. He (Mr. Vest) opposed them in toto.

Senor Pierra's Caustic Remarks.

Mr. Vest went on to speak of the late Pan-American conference, and he sent to the clerk's desk and had read a clipping from the New York Herald of a Buenos Ayres correspondent to show what a prominent and intelligent citizen of Buenos Ayres, Senor Pierra, who accompanied the Argentine delegates to Washington, thought of the conference, of Mr. Blaine, Mr. Curtis and the United States delegates. As soon as the clerk had finished the reading of this very caustic criticism Mr. Hawley asked Mr. Vest whether he knew who wrote that, and whether it was quite fair and decorous to have printed such a mass of irresponsible blackguardism. Mr. Vest replied that the gentleman's name was given in the communication.

"A Liar and a Blackguard."

Mr. Hawley—I reaffirm what I said—that the man who speaks as he does of honorable gentlemen, and who says of American colleges that degrees can be obtained for $50, says willfully that which is false.

Mr. Vest—That may be ascribed to his ignorance of American colleges.

Mr. Hawley—And to his ignorance of all the laws that govern gentlemen.

Mr. Vest—He is secretary of a society in Buenos Ayres and accompanied the delegation from the Argentine republic to this Pan-American conference.

Mr. Hawley—And you may add to that description that he is a liar and a blackguard.

Mr. Vest—That is a question between him and the senator from Connecticut.

Mr. Vest—The article was published in a New York paper, extracted from a paper in Buenos Ayres, and has gone broadcast over the country.

Mr. Hawley—The senator from Missouri will not indorse what that blackguard said?

His Opinion of Wining and Dining.

Mr. Vest—I have not indorsed it, but if the senator will contain himself a moment I will state my object in quoting it here. Mr. Vest then explained that his object in having the statement read was to show that the assumption of this administration that wining and dining would affect our commercial relations with South America was at fault. Nothing but self interest would do that. Mr. Vest denied a statement of Mr. Hale that Germany had built up her merchant marine by subsidies. She had done so, he said, by bringing ships from England, building repair shops and then constructing her own ships.

Commerce and the Tariff.

Mr. Wilson (Md.) spoke in opposition to the bill. Ships, he said, did not constitute commerce. They were merely its instruments. The stock phrase of the subsidists that commerce followed the flag was never more than half true and was often a glittering falsehood.

A country might have the best international postal facilities, and yet commerce might be dull and unprofitable. In order to have a great and healthy commerce, the product of each country must be wanted by the other country, and must be furnished as cheaply as any other competing country could furnish them. The United States was excluded from the markets of the world by the increased prices entailed upon all its manufactured goods by the high protective system. The people of the United States tied their hands and loaded their backs with the burdens of the tariff, and then whined because they had lost their foreign commerce. The bill went over without action. The senate then adjourned until Monday.

The house also adjourned until Monday.

THOSE RIOTING CLOAKMAKERS.

Eight of Them Were Charged With Burglary.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Eight of the striking cloakmakers who tried to terrorize the men working at Samuel Vellet's tailor shop were arrested and taken before the police court charged with burglary. Vellet claimed that he lost ten coats valued at $225, and the strikers were held in $1,000 bail for trial. Two of the strikers who threw stones at Vellet's place were sent to jail for three months.

Four other striking cloakmakers were held for trial for assaulting non-union tailors. Seven men who were arrested for standing in front of Vellet's house and refusing to move on when ordered by the police were dismissed by the judge. They were cheered by the crowd as they left the court.

The man who was shot by Vellet (Rosenberg) is not seriously wounded. Vellet was paroled to July 10 for further examination and Vellet's employes were released.

At about 6:30 Thursday night a wagon of the Mercantile Clothing company containing two employes of that company was attacked by striking cloakmakers at Delancy and Essex streets. After a severe struggle in which several people were hurt by flying missles the police arrested Samuel Greenberg, the leader of the strikers, and dispersed the crowd.

The Philadelphia's Successful Trial.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The trial board of the United States steamer Philadelphia, of which Capt. Henry Erben is president, has made its report to the secretary of the navy. It highly commends the deportment of the vessel in every particular. The condition of the weather, it says, was favorable for a sea trial. The trial commenced aoout 12:30 p. m. and ended at 4:48 p. m., the average speed during the four hours' run being 19.078 knots. The engines and boilers worked in a most satisfactory manner, the necessary steam pressure being maintained throughout the trip. In concluding its report the board says that it asked Mr. Cramp, the builder, if he wished another trial, and he emphatically declared "No." It is probable that the vessel will be formally accepted by Secretary Tracy next Wednesday, and that the order will be at once given to fit her out at the Brooklyn navy yard. She will then be placed in commission.

Seven Women Factory Inspectors.

ALBANY, July 5.—Factory Inspector Connolly has announced the appointment of seven women factory inspectors. The salary is $1,600 per year and expenses. Following are the names of the appointees: Mrs. Elisa A. Carroll, of No. 878 Herkimer street, Brooklyn; Miss Margaret Finn, of No. 40 Marion street, New York; Mrs. Alexander Premer, of No. 194 Second avenue, New York; Miss Julia Early, of No. 949 Eighth avenue, New York; Miss Electa R. Lockwood, of Bedford, Westchester county; Miss Bertha L. Asbott, of No. 14 High street, Albany; Mrs. Margaret Gibson, of No. 110 Grand avenue, Syracuse.

Kemmler at Auburn Again.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 5.—Murderer William Kemmler arrived in this city Thursday evening from Buffalo accompanied by Warden Durston and Guard McNaughton. A large crowd assembled at the New York Central depot to see the murderer, but were thoroughly disappointed. Until this time his arrival was a dead secret. He came down on the direct line to Port Byron and drove from there to the prison. According to Judge Child's resentence he will be executed by electricity during the week commencing Aug. 4.

The President's Trip.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—Secretary Blaine and Senator Hawley parted with the presidential party at the Broad street station and continued their journey to Bar Harbor. The president and party were driven to the ferry and crossed the Delaware to Camden. On the boat the president's carriage was surrounded by the people on board and he shook hands with all who sought that privilege.

Haverhill Still Celebrating.

HAVERHILL, Mass., July 5.—The second day of Haverhill's quarter millennial celebration showed no diminution in interest. Salutes and bell ringing ushered in the morning, followed by bicycle races and a big procession. In the afternoon there were children's entertainments, a balloon ascension and boat racing, and in the evening a grand river carnival and fireworks.

He Died of Hydrophobia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—Freddie Borringer, aged 6 years, died here of hydrophobia. He was bitten by a strange dog in the street five weeks ago. His illness did not develop until last Monday, when he was seized with spasms, showed aversion to water, and attempted to bite his nurse. He rapidly grew worse until death ended his sufferings.

Elkins Not a Candidate.

GRAFTON, W. Va., July 5.—In an interview here with Stephen B. Elkins he declared that he does not intend to be a candidate for congress in this district. This announcement is a political sensation. It has been generally supposed that Elkins would make the race against Congressman Wilson. He was assured beforehand of the republican nomination.

BRIEF MENTION.

The secretary of war has appointed the following cadets at the West Point Military academy: John G. Whitesides, Germantown, Pa., Fifth district; Frank Heath, Jr., West Troy, N. Y., Nineteenth district; Thomas H. Emmons, Easton, Pa., Eighth district, with Herman Schneider, Summit Hill, Pa., alternate.

BONNER.

All persons interested in improving the blood of their horses should call at the stables of Isaac Haupt and see the trottingbred horse Bonner His proprietors intend to have him kept for service. The pedigree of this horse as authentically traced is as follows:

The sire of Bonner was by Knickerbocker, whose sire was Rysdeckes Hambletonian, and the dam of Bonner's sire was by a Messenger horse. The dam of Bonner was a Vermont Morgan whose dam was a Starr mare.

These horses are all world renowned as every intelligent horseman knows. The dam of Bonner trotted in 2.40 at the age of 22 years, and at the age of 26 years She was not allowed trot foa the sweep stuck premium.

This horse has always been kept for service. And without being trained he trotted in 2.58 and competent judges declare that if properly handled he would now be trotting in the teens.

Bonner is a mahogony bay, will be 9 years old in May, and weighs 1000 lbs. He has bred colts that weigh 1400 lbs. and he has lighter offspring that are very promising for roading and for speed. f-20-3m

Bonner will be at the Mountain House stables in care of George Young, Snow Shoe, the last week in June. Then at Philipsburg at the Eagle Hotel stables ending the first week in July1 Second week in Bellefonte at the stables of Isaac Haupt. Then at Weaver's, Farmers Mills and Wm. McFarlands, Boalsburg. Returning by way of Lemont and Buffalo Run to Bellefonte, where the agent, Isaac Haupt, will answer all inquiries as to terms, etc.

AN ICE QUESTION.

And Also a Nice Question That Must Soon Find Solution.

The question of ice has become a serious one. Time was when ice was looked upon as a luxury; now it is justly regarded as a household—as well as sanitary—necessity. With the climatic changes that we are undergoing experience tells us that, in some sections of country, at least (Lancaster county among the rest), the natural ice product can no longer be depended upon. Getting natural ice from abroad is attended with so much expense that the dealers are compelled to ask such high prices as to make it almost impossible for poor people to buy the much needed thing; or, if they do buy on occasion, it is impossible for them to keep constantly supplied, or to have as much ice at any time as they need. What, then, is to be done? Naturally we turn to the ice machine for relief. Our hopes lie in

ARTIFICIAL ICE,

We mentioned several weeks ago that Mr. Rudolph Herr had bought a big ice plant, and was then putting up machinery at his ponds, of the terminus of the West End Railway; and we have since then noted that his plant was finished and in operation. We have already given the cost of Mr. Herr's machine and its capacity, which was to have been, if we recollect aright, thirty two tons every twenty four hours. We understand that it is not doing that much, however—not nearly that much; but it is making ice, and a first class article, too, which Mr. Herr is able to sell at $10 per ton. He is supplying quite a number of confectioners and others, and those with whom we have conversed are pleased with the product.

But Mr. Herr is not the only man in this community who is making artificial ice. Mr. S. F. Gruel also has a large machine, and, just as soon as he secures a sufficient quantity of ammonia, he will begin to place his product on the market. Then, too, nearly all the brewers in this city are manufacturing ice—Messrs. Rieker, Wacker, Sprenger, Haefner, Teufel, all are at it. Of course they are making it primarily, for their own use, but they will supply their beer customers with it in quantities sufficient to cool their beer, and this will naturally lessen the demand for the natural product which, in the absence of the machine-made ice the saloon keepers and hotel keepers would be compelled to buy, for the beverages they sell must be kept cool.

QUALITY AND COST OF MACHINE ICE.

The writer has not only 'sampled' ice water made from manufactured ice, with the ice in it, (and found it quite as good as any other ice water), but he has made some inquiry among those using it, and they invariably speak well of it. Artificial ice is now being sold in this city at 60 cents per hundred, and the natural product is selling at from 60 to 75 cents per hundred, as the dealers are not by any means alike in their prices. If they ever had a 'combine' it has been broken: there is no scale of prices, so far as our investigations have disclosed, that is being adhered to.

As to the quality of artificial ice, a well-known confectioner of this city declared to the writer, to day, that he had tried both kinds this season, and he had decided in favor of artificial ice, and was now using that exclusively. He finds, he says, that it is more solid than the natural product, keeps better, and consequently 'goes further.' He has placed two blocks of ice in a box, and, going to the box later on, has found the two pieces frozen together. He claims to have tried this with natural ice, under the same conditions, and found that the two pieces would not unite; from all of which he agues that artificial ice is better than natural ice, viewed from the 'staying' quality standpoint.

The summer is hot, and growing hotter. Natural ice is 'away up,' and it looks very much as if nature would be succeeded by art, so far as ice is concerned. In brief, it seems to us tha artificial ice will be the ice of the future, and we are assured that, with the chemical process necessary to its manufacture, we shall have not only better ice, but purer ice.—Lancaster Examiner.

A HOLOCAUST AVERTED.

An Incendiary Midnight Fire in a Big Double Tenement.

SEVENTY PEOPLE IN PERIL.

Had the Discovery of the Conflagration Been Delayed but a Few Moments the Loss of Life Would Have Been Fearful—Story of the Escape.

NEW YORK, July 9.—What might have been a frightful holocaust was narrowly averted here early Tuesday morning. A big double tenement house sheltering fourteen families, or over seventy persons, was discovered to be in flames, evidently the work of some fiendish incendiary, and had the discovery been delayed but a few minutes longer the loss of life would have been frightful.

It was 1 o'clock in the morning when the cry of "Fire!" rang out from the second floor. The housekeeper's wife, Mrs. McCluskey, had opened her door and found the stairs ablaze. The fire had come up from the cellar, right under the stairs, where it would do the greatest harm in the briefest spell of time. How it started no one knows, or probably ever will know. The street door is always open, "so that in case of fire you may run out quick," the landlord told the tenants when they asked him to put on a lock. As it happened, that was the one way out that was not open when the fire did come.

Mrs. McCluskey, whose husband had been down stairs fifteen minutes before the outbreak, insists that she heard the door slam and somebody going to the cellar; then stealthy steps, as though of stocking feet, came up the stairs, halted in front of her door and went up through the house. She thinks the fire was set to burn her and her husband, but can or will not guess by whom.

The Stairway Cut Off.

When she discovered the peril of the tenants escape by the only stairs was cut off. The lowest landing was burning. Flames licked up the wall of the house in the rear and broke her windows. Thus, literally between two fires, Mrs. McCluskey bravely held the landing to her front door until she had yelled herself hoarse and roused every sleeper in the house. Then she made for the front and the fire escape.

Escape by the stairs and doorway being entirely cut off by the livid tongues of flame, the frightened tenants—half wakened men, mothers clasping their infants in their arms and screaming children—made a frantic rush for the roof. The smoke was so thick and the heat from the rapidly advancing fire so intense that they were almost suffocated, and many of the women fell half fainting, only to be borne along by the half crazed crowd in its mad fight for life.

Fortunately they all got out alive just as the flames licked the stairway leading to the roof, but not without many bruises and cuts. The children especially suffered. Mrs. Richard Brandt, the wife of the grocer on the ground floor, climbed down the fire escape with her baby in her arms. The little one was almost in a spasm, its forehead was blistered and the mother's hand badly cut and burned when they reached the street. Mrs. Malone carried away her baby from the third floor, likewise half senseless from the overpowering smoke. On the second floor Mrs. Bridget Hogan, the wife of Daniel Hogan, awoke to find the hallway impassable when she tried flight that way.

A Timely Rescue.

Turning back to raise her husband, who breathed heavily, her senses numbed, she was unable to find her way in the dense smoke. Wrapping her six weeks' old babe in a sheet she shouted with all her might as long as she could. Her screams guided the firemen to the room just as her strength and her courage were giving out together. They carried her and her child down the fire escape. Her husband, at last awake, stumbled along. The baby, little Lizzie, was taken to the hospital. It was feared that it would never recover its breath, but it did, and was sleeping with the other little ones the sleep of exhaustion to-day on the street corner, where the wind blew fresh and cool.

A string of mothers with sleeping babies in their arms sat on the curbstone at Thomas street and West Broadway all the morning, blessing the souls that preserved their little ones from a cruel death. The faces of two of the babies were smudged with smoke and one was blistered, showing how narrow had been their escape.

The cause of the fire will be investigated by the fire marshal and if, as it looks, it is found to have been the work of an incendiary then woe betide him if he is ever discovered.

Sane Enough to Admit He Is a Lunatic.

FREDERICK, Md., July 9.—Dr. Harrison Wagner, the litigant who has been confined in the county jail here for three weeks, having been arrested under a petition in lunacy, was taken before the circuit court on a writ of habeas corpus. He admitted that he is a lunatic pauper, and it was ordered that he be delivered into the custody of Hansan Wagner, his brother, of Ohio, to be taken by him to that state. His brother agrees to use his best endeavors to prevent him from the further prosecution of his suits against residents of Maryland and the Adams Express company.

Broke His Gray Haired Mother's Leg.

BROOKLYN, July 9.—Persons living on State street were horrified by the brutal behavior of Christopher Buckley, aged 22, toward his gray haired mother. Christopher was on a spree, and in consequence of which he was in a very hilarious mood. He quarreled with his mother because she reproved him for his disgraceful conduct, and then, without any provocation, struck her a severe blow, knocking her off the stoop and breaking her leg. The old woman was removed to St. Peter's hospital and young Buckley arrested.

Afraid to Take Them to Court.

MORRIS, Ills., July 9.—James Maxwell and John Williams, who are in jail here charged with the murder of Charles Decker and with deadly assault upon his mother, Mrs. Mary Stevens, were held without bail to await the action of the grand jury. In order to avoid any public excitement in bringing the men to court, which might result in lynching, Justice Gifford went to the jail, where both men waived examination.

Accused of Forgery.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 9.—W. N. Griswold, a well known ticket agent of this city, was arrested charged with forgery. He is accused of altering six International and Great Northern railway tickets.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

The Trainmen Stand Firm at Cincinnati. "Big 6" Will Fight the Directory.

CINCINNATI, July 9.—In the yards of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis and Louisville and Nashville roads several policemen were stationed, but there was no call for their presence. The strikers are very quiet, and are making no effort to interfere with the work. Trainmen and clerks have been pressed into service to do work in the yards, while section men and roustabouts have taken the places of the freight handlers. The strikers have been promised the moral and financial support of the various railroad unions and of the trade unions of the city. The Louisville and Nashville strikers held a meeting in Newport and resolved to stick by their demands for increased pay.

NEW YORK, July 9.—C. J. Dumar, president of Typographical Union No. 6, says that the union here will make every effort to defeat the Trow City Directory company. Measures have already been taken to start a new city directory next year, wherein the interests of labor will be consulted. "The Trow company," he said, "announces that their directory will be put at $7.50 instead of $6 as heretofore, on account of the increased cost of composition, whereas their present move has been to get their composition done at 20 per cent. less in Chicago. It will really cost them more, because the amount in dispute originally did not exceed $500; that much the company has already spent to avoid union wages of this city. The situation just now is whether they will be able to get men enough in Chicago to finish their work, for the union there is working with us."

LYNN, July 9.—Messrs. C. & W. Varney, shoe dealers, have placed their labor troubles in the hands of the state board of arbitration. The Cutters' union must now treat with this body instead of the firm. All the employes of the factory, with the exception of the lasters, remain out and will not return until a settlement is reached.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 9.—The blacksmiths' helpers at the Old Colony repair shop are on strike for an increase in wages.

An Epidemic of Leave Taking.

ARCADE, N. Y., July 9.—Four men are reported missing from this vicinity since July 4. Clayton Tarbell, a hotel proprietor of Rushford, disappeared on the night of the Fourth. He is said to be deeply in debt. Earl Brown, a hardware dealer at Farmersville Station, left home on the morning of the Fourth, leaving a letter to his wife that he would not return. Henry Smith, a stock dealer of Fairview, left home on the Fourth, and the same night the comely young wife of his hired man also disappeared. John Nicholas, an octogenarian Welshman, of Sandusky, Cattaraugus county, who was married about six weeks ago to a widow of 75, disappeared a few days ago and is thought to have gone back to Wales.

Wants to Race His Pilot Boat.

BOSTON, July 9.—Capt. Jeffries, of the Burgess pilot boat No. 6, publishes the following: "I hereby challenge any keel schooner or pilot boat in the United States to sail a race, twenty miles to windward and return, in the month of September for the sum of $500 a side, to sail with mainsail, forestaysail, jib and main gaff topsail, and will assume five feet water line length to any schooner larger than mine, and will want the allowance due my vessel on sail area and water line length. John H. Jeffries."

Jumped Four Thousand Feet.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 9.—At the Manchester Driving park Professor Cliff Jones made a successful parachute jump from a balloon floating at a height of about 4,000 feet. For several hundred feet the parachute fell like a stone, it then opened and its fall was retarded. It landed 1,500 feet from the starting point. The balloon came down uninjured about a mile away.

A Cold Blooded Murder.

CHICAGO, July 9.—While James A. O'Rourke was sitting on the steps of his boarding house he was approached by James Whelan, who drew a revolver and deliberately shot him in the abdomen. After firing the shot he ran down the street and has so far eluded the officers. No reason is known for the shooting.

Struck by a Train and Killed.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 9.—John Kelly aged 50, a tin roofer of Brooklyn, was struck and killed by the Shore line owl train Tuesday morning. He arrived here by the boat an hour before and started to look up an officer of the ship in which he served during the war to assist him in obtaining a pension.

Was a Candidate for President Once.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—P. D. Wigginton died at his home in Oakland after a short illness. He was at one time the candidate of the American party for the presidency. He served two terms in congress as a representative of California.

A Prominent Politician Dead.

GENEVA, Ills., July 9.—James Harrington died here last evening. He was one of the best known representatives of the Democratic party in Illinois. For more than twelve years he was a leading member on the Democratic side of the lower house of the Illinois general assembly. He was born in Mercer county, Pa., June 6 1824. He was the son of James and Charity Harrington, who brought their family to Illinois in 1833.

A Trusted Bookkeeper Missing.

CHICAGO, July 9.—A. Hoste, bookkeeper for Young Bros., furniture manufacturers is missing, and the firm is most anxious to locate him. He left the office to go to a down town bank to draw $1,300, with which to pay off the men. He drew the money, it is said. He has been a long time in the employ of the firm and was implicitly trusted

DR. M'GLYNN TALKS.

He Expresses Himself on the Decision in the Burtsell Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—In answer to questions concerning dispatches from Rome about Dr. Burtsell's case Dr. McGlynn said: "As far as the dispatch goes it is just what I expected. The object is to humiliate and punish Dr. Burtsell, not for any false doctrine or disobedience to legitimate authority properly exercised, for he has not been guilty of anything of the kind, but because, as in my case, he has upheld the right of the freedom of opinion in matters of political economy, and freedom of political action on the part of an American citizen, even though the citizen be also a priest.

"He has not chosen to break or at least conceal his friendship for me or for my friends, or to place himself in antagonism to the reform movement in which we are engaged. One of the crimes imputed to him is that he invited me to dinner. Now the most recent utterances of the pope on the subject of excommunications are not contagious, so there should be no danger of any one's contracting excommunication by merely hearing me make a speech, by shaking hands with me, by conversing with me or by dining with me.

"Dr. Burtsell is an American, and has ever been known as a man of broad and liberal views. He was an Abolitionist and Unionist when it cost a Catholic priest something in New York to be on the side of liberty and of his country rather than have a sneaking kindness for rebellion and to be open in excusing and defending human slavery.

"If the Roman authorities do not insist upon a number of impossible apologies I believe that Dr. Burtsell will obey his orders and go to his out of town parish and do good work there, as he has always done in other parishes in other cities. If, on the other hand, they ask too much of him, it is difficult to say what course he will pursue."

KENTUCKY BILL MISSING.

It Is Feared He Has Been Murdered by the Hatfield Gang.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 9.—Detective J. W. Napier, better known as "Kentucky Bill," has been mysteriously missing for several weeks. When last seen he was at Racine, Boone county, and was on his way to Logan county, with the avowed intention of arresting the Hatfields on warrants charging them with the murder of Dave Stratton, at Brownstown.

When he left Kanawha he promised to write to one of his friends here, and although the letter has been expected for fully two weeks it has not yet arrived.

His friends fear that he has been foully dealt with and will never again be seen alive, as it is known that the Hatfields have more than once stated that they will never be taken by him, although they have expressed a willingness to come down and stand trial if any one else will serve the warrants.

A Big Fire Raging.

FERRYSBURG, Mich., July 9.—A great fire is raging in the mill yard of the Grand Haven Lumber company located at that place. One million feet of lumber and many hundred cords of slabs are already destroyed. A lively gale prevails and the entire village is in danger of being wiped out. Fifty families have moved their goods to a point of safety. Fire companies from Grand Haven and Spring Lake were early on the ground; a steamer has arrived from Muskegon. The tracks of the Detroit and Milwaukee road are impassable.

FROM UNDER THE DOME.

Mr. Vest Attacks the Conference Report on the Silver Bill.

THOSE CONTESTED SEATS.

The House Committee on Elections Decide Two More of the Cases and Report in Favor of Seating the Democratic Claimants.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The senate Tuesday, after routine business, took up the conference report on the silver bill.

Mr. Vest said that he would vote against the report. A large majority of the senate had voted for the free coinage of silver, but the conference report absolutely did away with all idea of free coinage, and continued and was intended to continue the system under which silver had been persistently and constantly degraded since 1873.

He was anxious to see an absolute parity between the two metals as money metals. He would like to see the time when sixteen ounces of silver would purchase an ounce of gold, and when an ounce of gold would continue (as at present) to purchase sixteen ounces of silver.

He read the closing clause of the second section of the conference bill: "It being the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals on a parity with each other upon the present legal ratio, or such ratio as may be provided by law," and asked why that declaration had been inserted—why that stump speech had been injected into the stomach of the bill.

It had been put in, he said, for the purpose of saying to the treasury department that until silver came to a parity with gold it should pay out gold and the public business should be conducted on a gold basis. He for one would never vote to maintain and continue that practice. He had never been "a silver man" for the purpose of booming silver or of increasing its price. He was against that and all other forms of subsidy. The conference bill might give an increased market for silver, but the principle for which the senate voted—that the two metals should be on a parity—had been given away in that bill absolutely and completely.

Mr. Coke expressed his concurrence in the conclusions reached by Mr. Vest. He could not support the conference bill. The senate conferrees had not represented the will of the senate, which had been declared for the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

The Contested Election Cases.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Two contested election cases were decided by the house committee on elections Tuesday. They were the cases of Hill (Rep.) against Catchings (Dem.), from the Third Mississippi district, and Kernaghan (Rep.) against Hooker (Dem.), from the Seventh Mississippi district. In each case the committee decided in favor of the Democratic contestee.

The case of Goodrich against Bullock, from the Second Florida district, was discussed by the committee, but action on it was postponed for a week. The Republican members of the committee seemed to be in favor of seating Goodrich.

Representative Lacey was directed by the committee to notify Representative Breckenridge, of Arkansas, and his attorney, ex-Attorney General Garland, to appear before the committee on Tuesday next to make final argument in the case of Clayton against Breckenridge.

A Mad Dog Scare.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., July 9.—A mad dog ran through Wauregan on Sunday, and word was flashed in every direction for the streets to be cleared. A score of dogs bitten by the animal were killed at once. Mr. Blakesley, of Voluntown, was bitten badly by the dog, and a rumor is current that the child who was mangled by a mad dog two months ago has shown signs of hydrophobia. Secret meetings have been held in several towns and committeemen appointed to slaughter all dogs running loose, whether muzzled or not. Many animals have been bitten by the rabid dogs.

As a Bank It Was a Dismal Failure.

JOLIET, Ills., July 9.—One thousand one hundred dollars in gold was stolen from Mr. Driemiller, of Lockport. Driemiller was afraid to trust his money to banks and was also afraid to invest it for fear of losing it. He kept his gold concealed in a tin bucket hung in the cistern, the opening of which was inside the house. When Driemiller took a peep yesterday morning to see if the bucket of gold hung in its place he saw it was gone. The burglars left no trace.

They Escaped Quite Luckily.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The fast mail train from New Orleans over the Illinois Central, due in this city on the initial trip at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, ran into an empty freight car near Monee, Ills., thirty-five miles out of Chicago. The freight car was totally wrecked, being distributed for yards along the track. The occupants of the cars sustained no injuries beyond slight bruises.

Women Fight a Duel with Knives.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 9.—Nannie Libsinger and Stella Cole fought a duel here with knives over a man named Matt Bradley. Libsinger was killed. The Cole woman was not seriously hurt. She is under arrest. The dead woman was raised at London, in this state; the Cole woman came from Cincinnati recently.

Henry Villard Elected President.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 9.—The following officers were elected by the directors of the Oregon and Transcontinental company: President, Henry Villard; vice president, Colgate Hoyt; second vice president, Paul Schults; secretary and assistant treasurer, T. H. Tyndale; treasurer and assistant secretary, G. A. Eades.

The Husband Followed His Wife.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., July 9.—The body of Mrs. George T. Dorler was found in the Beaverskill creek, she having evidently committed suicide. A few moments after the discovery of her body her husband shot himself dead. It is supposed financial troubles led to their sad ending.

Tried to Kill Herself and Children.

LIMA, O., July 9.—Mrs. Siefried, of this place, took a dose of rat poison and also forced some down the throats of her two children. All were made very ill, but will recover. Domestic troubles had made the woman temporarily insane.

DON'T GET FLURRIED.

The following editorial from the Philadelphia Times is so sensible that we publish it in full:

Don't get flurried about politics. The man who loses his temper in politics makes a fool of himself and does more harm than good for his party. It doesn't pay to get boiling mad in the hot season only to injure the cause you would advocate.

There will be very violent and defamatory campaign roorbacks started on both sides; but don't get flurried over them. In point of fact either Mr. Pattison or Mr. Delamater would make a reputable Governor, and either would be faithful to the political theories which would triumph with him, and the vituperative fiend of the contest will help rather than hinder the man he assails.

There will be some Democrats of ironclad Bourbonism and others of easy virtue who will vote against Pattison and for Delamater, but that's nothing to get flurried about. For every Democrat who votes for Delamater five or ten times as many Republicans will vote for Pattison, and it's simply nobody's business but the men who do the voting.

The political leaders of both sides, who work for spot cash or liberal expectations, will get awfully flurried as the tides of the battle ebb and flow; but they won't change a riffle on the surface and the fight will go on, end and elect the man who gets the most votes all the same whether fools or knaves flurry or not.

The people who will decide this contest won't get flurried and won't listen to anybody who rants around in flurried ways. The people of the shop and of the field and of the mine and of the forest will settle this conflict, and they won't get flurried, nor will they listen to flurried champions. They will think, decide and vote, and that'll be the end on't.

Don't get flurried about saving protection. Protection is now endangered only by its professed friends and the protected laborers know it. And don't get flurried about the rights of the negro in the South. The negro has one most dangerous foe—the men who insist that he must vote as white laborers are voted in mills and factories in the North, for the party ticket. The negro will do best when let alone, and don't flurry him by flurrying over his politics.

Don't flurry at all over politics. It doesn't pay in hot weather; it doesn't pay in cold weather; it doesn't pay at all. It won't change a vote; it won't help any candidate, therefore don't flurry over the coming campaign. Keep cool, vote as you please, and be sure that no matter who shall be elected, the Fourth of July will come as usual to bless the noblest government of the earth.

FOOD ADULTERATION.

The question of Food Adulteration is now occupying public attention more than ever before, and organizations are being formed in almost every state to prevent the sale of adulterated food or drink. The following letter voluntarily given, speaks volumes for the purity of Speer's Port Grape Wine N. Y. June 3, 1884.

MR. ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.

Dear Sir:—The result of my investigations of your wines convinces me that they are perfectly pure and free from foreign or deleterious substances. The best I have ever tasted, and is all that can be desired in a pure Port Wine. The Unfermented is especially nourishing, and where the action of alcohol is not required it is well adapted for invalids. I speak as a physician. Your Pedro Brandy fills a long felt want in the profession, for pure brandy can be obtained with great difficulty.

Arrested for Theft.

Ben Fulton, of Bellefonte, was before Alderman Stead this afternoon for a hearing. He was charged upon the oath of Andrew Doney, son of the proprietor of the Doney house, with stealing a gold watch and chain from his clothes, which were hanging in his, Doney's bed room. The act was committed early yesterday morning, and when Fulton was arrested a few minutes after committing the act, the watch, chain and a necktie belonging to Doney were found upon his person. In default of $200 bail Fulton was remanded to jail.—Williamsport Sun.

TURBULENT POLICEMEN.

London Bobbies Engage in an Incipient Riot and Strike.

AN INSPECTOR ATTACKED.

He Is Thrown Over a Balustrade and Narrowly Escapes Being Killed—The Men Weakening and a General Strike Is Not Now Feared.

LONDON, July 9.—One of the policemen (or constables) detached from the Bow street station and transferred to another division was not permitted to make a farewell address to his comrades in the station Monday, and a disorderly scene followed. The inspector who forbade him to speak was ejected from the room by the constables, thrown over a balustrade and narrowly escaped being killed.

The dismissal of the men refusing to do duty on Saturday caused a protest by their associates and gave rise to fears of trouble. In the evening a mob, anticipating a strike, met in front of the Bow street station, and becoming turbulent mounted officers attempted to clear the street. They were pelted with bags of flour, sticks, etc., and it was not until early Tuesday morning that order was restored.

The Men Weakening.

Two of the dissatisfied policemen have been sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment for having assaulted constables who were performing their duties.

The men are already weakening and, unorganized as they are, a general strike is not likely to occur, but isolated disturbances are anticipated before matters return to their normal condition.

The dismissed constables are petitioning the authorities to condone their offenses and reinstate them in their lost places. Today the entire metropolitan force is either on duty or prepared to report for duty, none of the men having struck.

Denounced by the Press.

The morning newspapers are unanimous in condemnation of the police strike, which sentiment is shared by the public generally. Public opinion has condemned Sir Edward Bradford's arbitrary policy since his appointment of chief commissioner of police, but is overwhelmingly favorable to him in its estimate of his conduct yesterday. On all sides his course is applauded and nobody questions its necessity.

The police were placed at a decided disadvantage as regards justification in attempting to strike upon the short notice they gave of their intention, since every member of the force is bound by an agreement to give two months' notice of his purpose of abandoning service. The agitators of the strike were mainly novices who had everything to gain and nothing to lose.

The Old Heads Killed the Strike.

The veterans of the force hesitated to sacrifice the benefits and advantages of their past long service by following the lead of their juniors, and their hesitancy in the future will certainly be greater.

It is unquestionably to the coolness and better judgment of the older men in the service that the failure of the strike is due. These men have never committed themselves to an out and out strike, and their reluctance to take the step influenced many of their colleagues, who otherwise would have responded to the call for a general outbreak.

The Panic Continues.

MONTEVIDEO, July 9.—The financial panic in this city continues unabated. The government, in order to prevent a run on the banks, resorted to the expedient of declaring Monday a national holiday. Relief is looked for as soon as the $1,500,000 in gold now en route here from Buenos Ayres arrives.

Want John Bull to Get Out.

LONDON, July 9.—The Turkish government has sent a note to the British government demanding that it fix a date upon which Egypt will be evacuated by the British troops without the right to again occupy that country.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time: she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it halped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. THE GALLOWS MAY BE CHEATED.

By the Death of the Only Witness of a Murder.

WATERBURY, Conn., July 9.—John J. Russell, a saloon keeper, died of typhoid fever at his home on Hopkins street Monday, and his death may cheat the gallows of a murderer against whom he would have given his evidence in a few weeks.

He was the only witness of the killing of John McDermott, into whose body Michael Flannigan fired six bullets from a revolver one night about a month ago in Russell's saloon. The murder was shockingly brutal, and everybody knows who did it, but conviction is now nearly impossible, for Russell's ante-mortem statement was not taken.

Murderous brawls are becoming disgracefully frequent in Waterbury. There were two on the Fourth. John Carroll is now held without bail for killing Thomas White, who was 70 years old. The charge against him will be murder in the first degree, and he will have a hearing today.

J. J. Dowling, who stabbed James Butler in a drunken quarrel on the Fourth, had an examination today and was held to await the result of Butler's injuries, which may be fatal.

Shot During an Altercation.

MADISON, Wis., July 9.—A man named Reichert, who keeps a saloon at Logtown, Sauk county, and Dan O'Hearn, of Chicago, had an altercation, and O'Hearn making some remark of a disagreeable nature, Reichert took down his rifle, and before the bystanders could interfere fired, killing O'Hearn instantly. Reichert is in custody. There are threats of lynching, and all haste is being made with the murderer to the jail at Baraboo.

Thought to Be a Hoax.

BUFFALO, July 9.—A tin canister has been picked up on Squaw Island, in the Niagara river, containing a dirty piece of paper on which was written in pencil the following: "March 30, 1890. We struck an awful squall. All on board are lost. I am on a raft and can't hold out much longer. Any one that finds this slip please notify my folks. Good-by. Jack Powers, Duncan, Mich." It is thought to be a hoax.

Another Peacemaker Gets His Reward.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 9.—Kelly Powers, a negro living in Ashland, was beating his wife when Benjamin Newman asked him to stop. Powers turned upon Newman and stabbed him to the heart. A crowd of negroes gathered at once and beat Powers severely, and were with difficulty restrained from lynching him. He was rescued and taken to jail.

He Was in a Hurry to Commit Bigamy.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 9.—Charles La Grange pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy, and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. He made a full confession to the court. He married his first wife at Sedgewick, Kan., and only five days afterward was married to another woman in this city.

The Bridge Fell.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., April 15.—The middle span of the new iron bridge which is being built across Black river fell, carrying Thomas Brown and James Ross, of St. Louis, down with it and killing them both. Their bodies are still beneath the wreck at the bottom of the river. The accident was caused by the washouts of the past month.

Miss Kilgore (of Georgia)—I want a nice room, with plenty of light and a good view.

Hotel Clerk—There is a very comfortable suite on the second floor with a southern exposure.

Miss Kilgore—No; I shouldn't care for that; papa is going to run for Congress very soon. I don't see why men always bring their politics into their business.

'Isn't it cold?'

'Cold?' repeated the young man in amazement, as he gazed at the thermometor.

'Yes,' she continued, 'so cold. And sweet and so deliciously flavored. I really think I could go a plate right now!'

Kansan—Mornin', stranger; may I ask what's yer business in these parts?

Stranger—I'm agent for a syndicate of capitalists, and I'm here to purchase mortgages and bonds.

Kansan—Well, there ain't much in your line out here. The only bonds in this section are vaga-bonds.

St. Jacobs Oil Cures PROMPTLY AND PERMANENTLY RHEUMATISM.

For 20 Years.

Pilot Knob, Mo., September 8, 1888.
I suffered with chronic rheumatism in my knees and ankles for twenty years and had to use crutches. I was treated at times by several doctors, but was finally cured by St. Jacobs Oil. Have had no return of pain in three years. HENRY P. TRAVERS.

AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

KEEPING HOUSE WITH COCKROACHES, Peetles, water bugs, &c., is not pleasant. The most effective and permanent remedy is—for two or three nights to sprinkle ROUGH ON RATS dry powder unmixed, in, about and down the sink and drain pipe; scatter it well but thinly over the sink. First thing in the morning wash it all away down the drain pipe, when all the insects from the garret to the cellar will disappear. The secret of this is in the fact that wherever the bugs or insects may be during the day, they must go to the sink for water during the night They can't stand ROUGH ON RATS in their water. This is the quickest, most effective and satisfactory remedy. ROUGH ON RATS being a poison, it should be used in this way only at nigth and washed away early in the morning. Another way is to mix a tablespoonful of ROUGH ON RATS with a half pound of brown sugar. Sprinkle it on rear of cupboard shelves or on plates, or on sheets of paper placed high out of reach of children. Cut this out for direct ons.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above-named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and P. O. address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., N. Y.

I Wished I Was Dead.

After suffering several years with the Leuchorrhœa, and no doubt I would have been, only a lady induced me to try Sulphur Bitters. Now I am well: Three bottles cured me.—Mrs. Copps, Newport, R. I.

Will Try to Defeat Hitt for Congress.

ROCHELLE, Ills., July 9.—The Farmers Alliance has sprung a new political party in the Sixth congressional district and has started out to defeat R. R. Hitt. The new party is composed of about equal numbers of Republicans, Democrats and Prohibitionists.

Another Explosion of Fire-Damp.

PITTSBURG, July 9.—By the explosion of fire damp in the Suckerville mines, near Rankin Station, Pa., five miners were seriously but not fatally injured. Their names are: John Jones, William Spence, John Kelly, John Carter and Robert Craig.

Going Back to Washington.

CAMDEN, N. J., July 9.—President Harrison arrived here on the regular Cape May express at 10:50 a. m. Tuesday, accompanied by Gen. Sewall, and left Broad Street station, Philadelphia, on the 12:3[illegible] train for Washington.

A Burglar Instantly Killed.

HOMER, Mich., July 9.—Byron Angevene, a farmer living four miles east of this village, instantly killed a burglar who had broken into his house. The burglar, whom no one here knows, was about 35 years old, short in stature and wore a black mustache.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." Prospects for Harvest.

Despite the fact of there having been too much rain throughout the country, the present outlook for crops is equal to that of any previous year, and when tired from severe toil and fatigue, thy farmer returns to the shady trees, longs for a cool drink of water. He forgets that his life is in danger from the sudden cooling of the system. In the good old times the apple jack and pure old rye were awaiting the return home and iwhy not now? Because you fear the impurities. Let us here say to you that you can get it as pure as ever and at reasonable prices, by the quart or gallon at from $1 50 to $4.00 per gallon, neatly packed and shipped by express. For price list and catalogue of all kinds of liquors just write to Max Klein, 82 Federal St., Allegheny, Pa—t.f.

Experience Taught Me.

And my money paid for it. After having Liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Selzbar Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—G. N. Butler, Cohoes, N. Y.

Young Brutes Set a Child on Fire.

TORONTO, July 9.—Two boys aged about 12 years made a deliberate attempt to cremate a 6-year-old girl on a public street here. One of them threw a large quantity of coal oil over her and the other set her clothing on fire. The girl started to run and the flames leaped as high as her head, but an Italian threw her down and smothered the fire with his heavy jacket [illegible] she was fatally burned. The boys, who are unknown, made their escape.

Held for Murder.

MONTICELLO, Ills., July 9.—Calvin Holden and Albert Dunham were held by a coroner's jury for the murder of Harley Russell, who was shot dead near his house last week. New evidence has been found which is very damaging to the accused.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Republican conferrees agreed on a compromise silver bill, and their report was presented to the senate. The purchases of bullion are fixed at 4,500,000 ounces a month. An entirely new feature was added, permitting the secretary of the treasury to redeem certificates in gold or silver coin, and declaring the intention of the government to be to maintain the two metals in a parity upon an established ratio.

Thomas Fallon, Jacob Moschell, Thomas Duraney and James Hall, the members of the election board in the First precinct, First district of Jersey City, who were convicted of conspiracy, were sentenced to eighteen months each in state prison and payment of the court costs.

A fierce wind storm struck Fargo, N. D., unroofing and blowing down buildings and killing nine people and injuring many others. A Northern Pacific train was blown from the track and many passengers seriously hurt.

The Alabama state convention of the Greenback Labor party was held at Birmingham, and all the state officers were nominated, the candidate for state treasurer being also the Farmers' Alliance candidate.

Mr. Richard Croker, of New York, leader of Tammany hall, has engaged a berth on the steamship Columbia, of the Hamburg American line, which sails on July 17.

Dr. John Monroe, of Days Gap, Ala., murdered his four children and then killed himself. He is believed to have been insane on religious topics.

Table Talk.

TABLE TALK is pre-eminently the "table" magazine, for there is nothing pertaining to its palatableness, luxuriousness, its economies, its wholesomeness or its whims, and fashions and fancies but what is treated in a spicy, entertaining and instructive manner. How so much excellent matter can be furnished for one dollar a year is a matter of wonder to its readers, who are excited to fresh admiration by the contents of the July number, which opens with a "Midsummer" poem, followed by an article on "July Jellies" and the second installment of "A Dinner for Four Persons for One Dollar," by the Editor, Mrs. S. T Rorer. "The Dining-Room of Long Ago," by Tillie May Forney, will interest all readers, as will also the article on "Fashionable Luncheon and Tea Toilets" by this brilliant writer. The article on "Canning and Preservieg Vegetables," by Mrs. Rorer, is an article of great and timely value at this season of the year.

Everybody should have the July number in order to read the article on "Warm Weather Drinks," by Mrs. Rorer, it alone is worth more than the year's subscription price. "How Shall the Children be Educated?" by Mrs. Grayson, is an article full of value in homes where there are children—and what is a home without children? "Dining Here and There," "Capricious Washington," "Witty Toasts," are among the many readable articles that make the July number well worth sending for. 10c. per copy; $1.00 per year. Published monthly, by Table Talk Publishing Co. 1617 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

What Does It Mean?

"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

Eupepsy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Girls who use SAPOLIO are QUICKLY MARRIED

SAPOLIO is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. If your store-keeper does not keep it you should insist upon his doing so, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.

SHE REFUSED TO MARRY HIM

So He Shot Her, a Man Who Tried to Save Her, and Himself.

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—John Chapman, a young man suffering from the heat and unrequited love, shot his sweetheart and a man who tried to save her and then put a bullet through his own heart. Chapman was a carpenter, 35 years old, and boarded with Mrs. Joanna Elsner, a prepossessing young widow, who conducted a boarding house at 810 North Eighth street. During the past week Chapman proposed to Mrs. Elsner, but was rejected on account of his dissipated habits.

He called on Mrs. Elsner last night in an apparently sober condition. She invited him into the parlor, and his first question was "What is my bill? I want to pay it."

The unfortunate woman named the sum, and Chapman reached into his pocket, but instead of a purse he pulled out a pistol and began firing at Mrs. Elsner. She screamed and ran out to the street, closely pursued by Chapman. He fired three times and missed. The fourth shot struck her in the back as she was escaping through a confectionery store.

Michael Milgrim, the proprietor of the store, struck Chapman and got in front of the woman. Chapman fired again and shot Milgrim through the body. After gazing for a few seconds at the bodies of his two victims the murderer put the muzzle of the weapon to his heart, pulled the trigger and fell dead.

Mrs. Elsner and Milgrim are still alive, but their wounds are believed to be fatal.

WALLING UP THEIR TOMB.

The Mine Cannot Be Flooded and This to Quench the Fire.

DUNBAR, Pa., July 3.—The work of putting out the fire in the Hill Farm mine has commenced. The mine cannot be flooded, and an effort is being made to smother the flames. It is thought there is only one way in which the property will be of any use again. That is to shut up the burning portion in walls of brick.

The coroner's inquest over the bodies of the two men brought out of the slope will begin Monday. It will be one of the most important ever held in this district. It will be the aim of the coroner to try and test the entire work from the first.

What is most needed here now is relief for the twenty-one widows and seventy-seven orphans of the victims of the explosion. Money is needed badly, as there is much suffering.

Died of His Injuries.

PASSAIC, N. J., July 3.—Joseph Palzoosky died at St. Joseph's hospital this morning from the injuries he received at the hands of Paul and Mike Somski in a street brawl on the night of June 22. They quarreled over Somski's sister, and the Somski brothers struck Palzoosky with a blackjack. The Somskis are under arrest.

Historian Bancroft All Right.

BOSTON, July 3.—Reliable information received from Newport, R. I., states that Mr. George Bancroft, the historian, is as well as could be expected of a man of his age. He takes a short walk every pleasant day. His constant companion is Mr. Absalom Taylor, a professional nurse of Boston.

Danvers' Peabody Institute Burned.

PEABODY, Mass., July 3.—The Peabody institute at Danvers was burned to the ground Wednesday forenoon. Loss, $75,000. The fire was caused by painters who were burning the old paint from the building. The building was the gift of George Peabody and was insured.

Fatal Result of a Dispute.

GORDON, Ala., July 3.—Henry L. Wofford got into a dispute with a laborer in his father's brick yard and shot the man dead. He then shot and killed the dead man's wife and fired at the son, who was approaching, but did not hit him.

The stock market was excessively dull today, only 52,500 shares changing hands in the two hours to noon. Prices fluctuated only very slightly, however, and the dealings developed no feature of interest. The principal dealings were confined to a very few stocks, notably Hocking Valley, Lead Trusts and Reading. The first two were the only stocks that showed any strength, and at one time were up 1@1¼ per cent. respectively. The other stocks were generally weak and at noon fractionally below the closing figures of yesterday. At the close the market was steady. Closing prices:

The Fourth in Bellefonte.

The 4th of July is a day fraught with many memories. A day associated with one of the greatest events recorded in American history. The 4th of July, 1890, marked the 114th date of American independence. Just why it is that young America celebrates the event with the firecracker it is hard to determine unless it be that it took powder to emphasize the right to celebrate it in any way.

Be that as it may, the 4th is a day on which all business is suspended and tired humanity rests and the gay and fun loving have a good time. As to Bellefonters this 4th the only good time they had was in anticipating the nice time the brethren of our sister towns—Tyrone and Williamsport—were having. Independent of the Undine Hose Company, which took with them the Zion band, and Company B., there were not very many residents of Bellefonte who went out of town to spend the Fourth. It seemed as if most of the people preferred staying at home and resting. It was here where they could get the rest, too. Not a thing was done in Bellefonte. All the stores were closed; the trains were behind time and everything seemed to conspire to make the day as lack of events as it were possible to be.

About 6 o'clock in the evening the talked of bicycle race—which proved to be no race at all—came off. Ten cycles were in at the start. Mrs. Bonbright led off. They started at the diamond wheeled around the square and then made a spurt for the country. They did not go to Pleasant Gap and when the platoon returned there were only five cycles to be seen. Later in the evening numerous fireworks were put off in various parts of the town but by ten o'clock everything had mostly calmed down and the only thing that reminded one of the 4th was the occasional explosion of a firecracker.

They got Married

On Thursday afternoon a young couple presented themselves before 'Squire Foster, at his office in the Court House, and requested him to perform the marriage ceremony. A number of the court house officials and a few other persons that were there at the time, scented a little fun and prepared to have it. Accordingly a half dozen or so assembled in the arbitration room and awaited the wedding party. They had not long to wait. Soon the door opened and the Squire advanced, followed by the young couple, who proved to be Mr E T. Young, of Fleming, and Miss Mary Fry of Buffalo Run.

They took their respective places and the ceremony was pronounced that made them man and wife. After the completion of the same they returned to the justices' office to get their certificate, No sooner had they passed through the door than the heavy beating of a bass drum rang out clear and distinct and, as if to keep the drum company, the explosion of cannon firecrackers was heard in rapid succession. For about minutes the roar and noise was deafening and scores of persons ran to the court house to see what was wrong. The explanation was easily made when the fact that it was the third of July was taken into consideration and that a young couple had just been marrid. It was a serenade such as they would probably not receive at their own home.

Newspaporial Fourth of Julyisms

Quite a number of our exchanges celebrated the 4th by coming out printed in colors.

The York Dispatch was printed two pages in black and two pages in blue, and on one page had a picture of Columbia with the stars and stripes in one hand and the shield of liberty in the other.

The Williamsport Republican printed an eight page edition in red and blue.

The Altoona Times came out with a blue border on one side and a red border on the other.

The Altoona Sun was printed one side in red and the other in blue. It was the best printed of any that used colored inks.

The New York Evening World had great stripes of red and blue across its pages. Instead of looking patriotic it seemed as if the office cat must have fallen in the ink barrel and then dragged its dripping tail over the paper.

The Williamsport Sun thought it would have to print a paper on the 4th. So thinking, the 'devil' took a bundle, dipped it in the red and blue ink barrels, put it on the press and printed an edition filled with ads. plate matter and 'dead matter.' It was enterprise (?).

Visitors in Town.

On Friday morning among the early arrivals on the 5:30 a. m. train were four of Lock Haven's popular and accomplished young people, Misses Margaret Smale, Grace Fisher, William Kinley and Lew Smale, who were all seeking some cool place to "rusticate." So they concluded to drive over to the cave and there view the wonderful sights of that celebrated cave. They were a jolly and "gay" crowd and it is useless to say that their trip was a delightful, as well as a long to be remembered one. They departed for their respective homes on the 9 p. m. train much to the regret of some of their friends.

The Pulpit and the Stage

Rev. F. Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 20 lbs. in weight."

Arthur Love manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it.' Free trial bottles at Keplinger & Co., Drug Store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

Pianos - Organs.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.

PATTISON GETS THERE.

The Ex-Governor was Nominated on the First Ballot on Wednesday.

The Democratic State Convention which met at Scranton on Wednesday nominated Ex-Governor Pattison for Governor and Black for Lieut. Governor. William S. Stenger nominated Pattison and Ex Judge Orvis nominated Wallace. The first ballot stood as follows:

The first ballot as announced by Harrity was as follows: Pattison, 200; Wallace 132; Wright, 11; Hensel, 13· Black, 10; not voting 1.

When the Convention got tired shouting, Geo. McGowan, of Philadelphia, moved to make the nomination unanimous. It was seconded by half a dozen men and went through like a breeze.

Then Chairman Harrity announced that the next thing in order was the nomination of candidates for Lieutenant Governor. Instantly there were cries for "Black," "Black," from every part of the hall.

John J, Maloney, of Philadelphia, said there seemed to be a desire for the old ticket of 1882, and he nominated Chauncey F. Black. There were several seconders, and then Delegate Steel, of Lehigh, placed the name of Robert E Wright before the Convention. W F Collins placed the name of Hanibal Sloan of Indiana, in nomination and then the nominations closed.

The roll call was immediately ordered and as it progressed Wright and Black were frequently applauded. The ballot resulted as follows. Black, 141· Wright, 164; Sloan, 3. The nomination was made unanimous. William H. Barclay, was then nominated by acclamation for Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The Ladies Home Journal.

Every story, article and poem in The Ladie's Home Journal for July has an outdoor flavor, and a better magazine for summer reading has never been prepared for women. A beautifully illustrated article "A Day with Ida Lewis," the Grace Darling of America, is the first authentic description ever published of the home life of the famous heroine who lives alone in Lime Rock Light-House, and has saved so many lives. It is a fascinating article, and is followed by one on 'Amateur Photography for Girls," which every girl who has or intends getting a camera should read, Mary T. Holmes gives a lovely 'Moonlight View of Naples,' while Dr. William A. Hammond the noted physician, furnishes a most practical and timely article on 'Hints for Summer Tourists.' Anna Sheldon Coombes has a dainty story of Sunny Italy, beautifully telling of 'An Untold Dove,' while Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, Kate Upson Clark and Maud Howe each furnished parts of their novels. A bright Vassar girl tells of 'A Girl's Life at College,' Dr. Talmage writes of summer pleasures and dangers; Edward W. Bok gives some 'Helps to Literary Success;' The Duchess tells how she wrote her first novel; Mrs. Mallon has five pages of the most practical styles in woman's dress, and then follow a dozen more large pages each replete with something entertaining, useful or helpful for women. The Ladie's Home Journal is only One Dollar a year, and is published at 433-435 Arch street Philadelphia, Pa.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Death of Mrs. Montgomery.

On Wednesday night at 11 o'clock the spirit of Mrs. Catharine Montgomery, of Allegheny street, this place, took its flight to the celestial home. Mrs. Montgomery was the mother of Messrs. Frank, Win, Henry and Moses Montgomery, of this place. She had suffered from the feebleness incident to age for several years and her death was a deliverance from physical pain. She was born in Philadelphia July 9, 1812, making her age 78 years. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon, July 4, at 4 o'clock, from her late residence.

WAS HE MURDERED?

The Body of a Dead Man Found in Centre County.

The trainmen on the Bellefonte and Buffalo Run railroad, while proceeding along the road this morning, about two miles from Fillmore, in Centre county, saw the body of a man lying in a creek near the track. The men informed the authorities and the body was taken from the water and found to be that of a man who is supposed to have been dead two weeks. The coroner will proceed to investigate the death. The finding of the body has created considerable excitement in the community, and recalls an incident that may throw some light upon the matter. About two weeks ago while a young girl was teaching school near Fillmore she was badly frightened by the appearance of a peddler who was in front of the school house. She rang the school house bell and the blacksmith, whose shop was several hundred yards distant, jumped on his horse and hurried to the school house. A brother of the teacher, who was at the shop, also ran to the school house. The peddler was still at the school house and, although he appeared to be harmless it is alleged that the two men kicked him and raced him within a short distance of the spot where the dead man was found this morning. If this is true and the body found this morning is that of the peddler it may prove a serious affair for the blacksmith and the young man who are said to have maltreated the peddler.—Williamsport Sun and Banner.

We print the above simply to show how unfounded it is. The man in question was identified as a tramp frequently seen in that section. And as to a coroner's investigation, there was nothing to investigate and the man was buried, decently and hurriedly, and that is all there is about it.

A Former Centre County Young Man Killed.

The Renovo News says: Miles Draucner, formerly of Milesburg, Centre county, but now a brakeman employed in the yard at this place, has been added to the already long list of men whose lives have been crushed by the cars while in the performance of duty.

A train was being made in the lumber yard, and Mr. Draucher was engaged in coupling cars at 11 o'clock yesterday morning when he was caught between two bumpers and terribly crushed. He was unconscious when picked up. A stretcher was procured, and the injured man was taken to the residence of his brother, John Draucher, on Seventh Street. Dr. Fullmer was summoned to attend him, but the physician on his arrival found that his services would be unavailing to stay the progress of death, and half an hour later, at 11·30 o'clock, the unfortunate man passed away, without recovering consciousness.

Mr. Draucker was about 24 years of age and was unmarried. He came to Renovo about six months ago, and obtained employment in the P. & E. black-smith shop. About a month ago he was promoted to a fireman in the yard. He was a good faithful employee and was respected and esteemed by all. He boarded at the Revere House on Fourth street, while in Renovo.

The deceased was a cousin of William Grand Edward Draucker of Lock Haven. The remains were taken to Milesburg, for interment.

Hold it to the Light.

AN OLD MAID'S SOLILOQUY.

"To take or not to take it, is the question—
Whether it is better to end this earthly career
A spinster—braving the smiles of those who would insist
That lack of lovers caused my lonely state,—
Or take the remedies my sisters take,
And see my eyes grow bright as tho' I bathed
In the immortal fount De Leon sought
In vain in Florida's peaceful shades.
I oft have heard my married sisters say
That good old Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Would bring back color to a faded cheek,—
Restore the health of one who fain would die
To rid herself of all the pain she feels."

The aforesaid spinster took the remedy—and forthwith took a husband also, having regained her health and blooming beauty.

Thousands of women owe their fresh, blooming countenances to the restorative effects of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb.

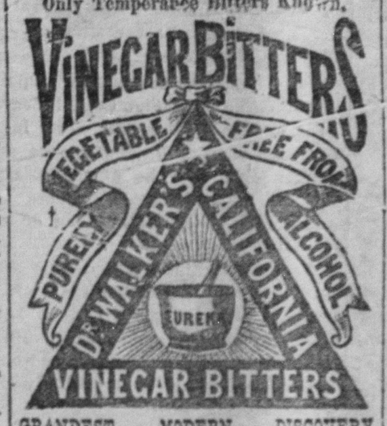
Only Temperance Bitters Known.



GRANDEST - MODERN - DISCOVERY
Triumph of Pharmacy
The only true practical
ELIXIR OF LIFE AND HEALTH.

is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

A GENUINE TEMPERANCE BEVERAGE, far surpassing alcohol in any shape as a tonic it might be called

LIQUID LIFE,
since it stimulates, invigorates and regulates digestion, nutrition, secretion, excretion, respiration, and all the functions whereby life is maintained—we literally take in vitality in spoonfuls.

It is too much to assert that the equal of Vinegar Bitters does not exist, as no counterpart or compound with similar virtues has ever been known

CALIFORNIA,
if remarkable for nothing else, would be immortalized by the production of the medicinal fruits roots and herbs of which this Bitters is composed. Many of them used by the Indians and the medical profession in the treatment of chills and fevers, rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, neuralgia, headaches, liver complaint, kidney disease, jaundice, gout, piles, boils, skin diseases, &c., &c., too numerous to mention, but easily understood when the action of the Bitters on the vital functions is remembered. The discovery was partly accidental but the present

PERFECT BITTERS IS THE RESULT OF SCIENCE.

Millions of sufferers have gratefully and gladly endorsed, during the past quarter of a century the wonderful success of this

PHENOMENAL TONIC OF THE WORLD.

In order to meet every probable demand, two formulas of the same ingredients are now put up.

THE OLD STYLE IS STRONGER, SLIGHTLY BITTER, AND MORE CATHARTIC.

THE NEW STYLE, PLEASANT TO THE TASTE, AND EXPRESSLY ADAPTED TO DELICATE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

REMEMBER,
There is no disease of low vitality, debility of functions, or nervous prostration for which

VINEGAR BITTERS IS NOT CURATIVE, and its singular power over the lower organisms renders it the implacable foe of

THE DEADLY MICROBE AND OMNIPRESENT BACTERIA in malarial diseases, cholera, consumption, internal diseases, &c., and so great is its power as a germicide that it is an

UNEQUALLED VERMIFUGE.

A book could be written of its virtues, and another of testimonials, but it is only necessary to remember its general action upon the liver, blood, brain and nerves, to realize its use in a majority of the ills that flesh is heir to, and that no family should ever be without a bottle of

ROBERT NEILSON, General Manager

Bellefonte Republican,

CHAS. L. GATES, - - LESSEE
Editor and Business Manager.

Local Department.

—Sunday was a model day.

—"Gathering in the sheaves."

—Have you paid your post office box rent yet? If you haven't you better do so at once.

—The Pittsburg Times says "D. Bates Bell, a wealthy lumberman of DuBois, is at the Schlosser."

—The estimated population of Huntingdon is 5,300—over one thousand more than Belletonte.

—Editor N. S. Bailey dropped the first letter in the letter box corner of Lamb and Ridge streets.

—If Monday wasn't a hot day why then tell us, will you? It is said that it was 110 degrees in the shade.

—There is not going to be very much fun in carryng the mail around Bellefonte. The carriers will put in a full day

—"Warren" says to put in the paper that he has got an entirely new suit and that he wore it on Sunday for the first time.

—All persons who were missed by the census enumerators, during the taking of the census last month, are requested to send in their names to this office.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lauth. of Howard, celebrated their golden wedding on Tuesday, they having been married fifty years ago that day.

—The water committee requests that persons abstain from all unnecessary use of water as the pump is run to its utmost and can hardly supply the demand.

—All of our readers should pay especial attention to the resolution passed by council Mondaynight urging upon the people the importance of numbering their houses at once.

—The Evening Herald, Renovo's new paper, comes out with a dirty face and not a line of advertising. The name of the editor is not given. We hope it may grow and prosper.

—After an absence of about three months, the Brockerhoff House omnibus appeared on the street this morning. It has been handsomely remodeled and displays a fine appearance.

—If you meet a man dressed in a light blue uniform and carrying a large parcel, don't imagine him either a policeman or a pin peddler. He is one of Bellefonte's mail carriers.

—What is the matter with the Lock Haven Evening Express? It now never reaches Bellefonte until noon subsequent to the day of publication while it used to come up the same evening.

—The Sugar Valley Journal says "Confidence men are getting in their work in Centre county. Game seems to be plenty over there." That's where you are off. The confidence men have tried their hands but failed to bag any game in this county.

—Some Bellefonte printers thought it would be good fun to take a few days off last week and go work in the harvest field. They went, but this morning found them very willing to go to work at their trade again. Binding sheaves or pitching hay is not picking type by any means.

—On the Fourth of July Will Harter and Sam Gettig went fishing. Sam says the two of them caught two fish—an eighteen inch and a three inch trout; Will says they caught 21, but we have it on as good authority as a democratic candidate that they din't catch any, but instead, bought two little ones.

—Mr. S. D. Ray is a good draughtsman. If any person doubts the assertion let him go look at the map just completed by that gentleman of the borough of Bellefonte and he will be convinced of the truth of the above. It is correct in the minutest details.

—The Pennsylvania Editorial Association will start on its annual outing on the 14th instant. They will go to Washington and on the way will spend one night in Harrisburg and one night in Philadelphia. They will be gone five days. Editors Meek and wife, Tuten and wife and Fiedler and wife, of this place, will join the procession.

—Recorder John F. Harter received from Samuel Diehl, of Montrose, Colorado, samples of Colorado wheat and wild grass. The wheat is the nicest we ever saw—some of the heads are over six inches long and plump and full as can be. The grass has heads almost one foot in length. It is a perfect illustration of the quality of Colorado soil.

—Increase of pensions have been granted to Samuel H. Orris, Milesburg, and Charles E. Sanders, Marsh Creek. We don't believe it is generally known but it is a fact, nevertheless, that all old soldiers who apply for a pension under the Dependent Pension Bill thereby renounces all claim for a pension under previous acts. The Dependent pension bill will not allow over $12 per month while there are acts that will allow as high as $75.

COUNCIL'S DOINGS.

Considerable Miscellaneous Business Attended to But Nothing Very Important.

When the NEWS reporter entered the council chamber on Monday night the councilmen were already busily engaged listening to a statement being made by Mr. J. M Woomer, manager of the telephone exchange, in ragard to a telephone service for the police. Mr. Woomer stated that the company would put up two phones, do the wiring, put on an all night operator and, in addition, give through connection on a special line to the electric light works for the sum of one hundred dollars per year. The borough would be obliged to erect the booths or watch houses wherein to place the phones. The above statement was made because the police have been clamoring for something of the kind and have frequently made complaint about the inefficient service, especially in case of a fire, when it always took so long to get the electric light station. When the matter came up before council for settlement Mr. Potter stated that he did not think Bellefonte had reached that stage when it demanded a special telephone service for the police, and that he would move the subject be laid on the table for the present and the police be instructed to quit finding fault with the telephone service as it now is. The motion was seconded and carried and the special telephone service for the police is now laying on the table where they can get it most any time.

Street committee reported work done on Pine and Thomas streets, and two lights put on East Beaver street. They also reported contracting for 40 wood street signs, and to receiving a proposition from the Steel Sign Co., of Beaver Falls, to furnish blue and white indestructible signs at 70 cents a piece and pay ten dollars for the wood signs now ordered. Council decided to use the wood signs which cost but ten dollars all told.

Water committee reported everything being in good repair but that it took pumping every hour in the day to keep up the water. The chairman notified council that the pumping facilities would have to be increased, but probably not within a year.

The 22nd day of July, at 7 o'clock in the evening, was the time set for the holding of the water tax appeals.

Fire and Police committee had nothing to report.

Market committee reported that there had been considerable wholesaling of market stuff going on at the curb and that the chairman had put a stop to same, because he did not believe it a place to sell at wholesale, the decision of the Supreme Court to the contrary notwithstanding. Also reported that a number of patrons are willing to pay one year's fees in advance if the curb be numbered and they are allowed to retain their position the year through.

Finance committee handed in report of borough treasurer which shows the borough indebted to treasurer in the sum of $5,671.22. The expenses so far this year show a decided increase over that of the same period last year.

D W Woodring recently appeared before council and asked exoneration from taxes. The Finance committee investigated and reports no exoneration.

A petition was handed in signed by a number of citizens declaring the house on East High street, occupied by James Fannon, as being uninhabitable and a great nuisance. Referred to nuisance committee with power to act.

Mr. Potter offered the following resolution which was unanimosly adopted by council:

Since the taxpayers of Bellefonte have gone to some expense in surveying the borough with the view of numbering the houses and lots, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this body that each and every house should forthwith be numbered according to the surveyor's report, in order to facilitate free mail delivery which is now in operation.

S. D. Ray, the surveyor, was present and displayed the map he had made. It is complete and accurate and a medium of reference that has long been needed in this town.

Wedding at Port Matilda.

At the home of the bride's parents in Port Matilda, Pa., on July 2, at 7.30 p m, Mr. James P. Bair, of Glen Hope, Clearfield county, Pa., and Miss Abbi C. Osman, of Port Matilda. Centre county, Pa., were joined in holy matrimony by Rev. J. C. Young.

This was one of the most brilliant weddings that has occurred in Port Matilda for a long time. Quite a number of invited guests participated in the joyous occasion. After a royal feast, served by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Osman, which made the tables groan with its weight and the mouths of the guests water with its tempting sight had been disposed of, the balance of the evening was spent very delightfully in singing, playing and speech-making.

From the picturesque forest of Clearfield came to Bair not as the lion cometh to kill and destroy, but this Bair came to seek a nightingale to warble in his cage away across the Alleghenies among the romantic hills of Clearfield.

In Osman's cage among the birds with plumage rich and rare and voices so sweet as to charm, even a Bair, he found the object of his pursuit, the idol of his heart.

Mr. Bair is one of Clearfield county's promising young men and with a nightingale to drive away all gloom by her smiles and cheer him with kind words and to make the walls of his cozy cottage echo with her sweet melodies he surely will be a very happy Bair. "Yes the Bair and the lamb shall lie down together and a little child shall lead them.—Tyrone Herald.

Free Mail Delivery.

It commenced on Monday in Bellefonte. Of course things didn't run as smooth as they should or as they will in a few days. Everything is new and strange. But wasn't it a hot day to start in. And the mail, too, was a large one. Messrs. Benner, Wagner, Bair and Bayard never had any idea of the great number of letters that Bellefonters received. They filled their mail bags as full as they could get them and then started out with a big armful besides. When John Bair went up High street a man said he carried a larger budget than the average jew pedler. But it was too much for Mr. Benner and when he was about three-fourths over his route, with his first delivery, he played out; got a sun stroke, paralytic stroke and then struck himself and said he could go no further. Deputy postmaster, G. W. Rees, sailed out and completed his route and made the evening delivpry.

It may be a nice thing to be employed by Uncle Sam but there is no play in being a Bellefonte mail carrier.

Pleasant Gap Band.

The Pleasant Gap, Centre county band which had accompanied the Undine Fire Company of Bellefonte to the Williamsport celebration yesterday, gave THE DEMOCRAT office the honor of a serenade this morning, a delegation of the Undine boys being with them. The P. G. band is led by William H Noll, and plays extremely well, and we feel much complimented by their call. There are few country bands, if any, that excell the Pleasant Gap. The boys are devoted musicians and take a deep interest in their delightful art. The Undine Fire Company has been in existence many years and was always highly effective at conflagrations. The members are full of spirit and not afraid of work. Call again gentlemen.—L. H. Democrat.

Letter List.

Following is the list of unclaimed letters remaining in the post office at Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., July 7, 1890:

W H Baird, Henry M Bressler, Wm M Beaird, Emely Clark, Mrs. V M Hall, Mr. Jerid Hazel, Mr. R L. Johnston, Mr. M V Kelly, Mrs. Ida Linsey, Wilbert Lovle, Sadie Lucas, Mrs. Lillie Lieb, Miss Sallie Lutze, Peter Moore, Miss Sallie Meade, Miss Annie Ogleby, L C Rearick, Louis Simons, Mr. William Sechler, Mr. Hudson Wright.

Persons enquiring for letters named in the above list will please say advertised. J. A. FIEDLER, P. M.

General Hastings Religion.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

To the Editor of the Press.

SIR:—Will you kindly let me know through the Press the religion of General D. H. Hastings. R. J. T.
Philadelphia.

General Hastings was a Methodist before the Harrisburg Convention, and has given no evidence of change of faith since. He is a Republican all the time.

Remarkable Increase in Ten Years.

Census Supervisor Bricker, in an unofficial statement of the population of DuBois, gives that borough 6,510. There are three wards—First, 2,915; Second, 2,475; Third, 1,120. In 1880 the population was 2,817, the increase being 130 per cent This ratio will hardly be beaten in the State except by Johnsonburg, Elk county, a new town.

—W. Gaylor Morrison was in Bellefonte on Tuesday. Gay looks very cheerful and says the recordship is looming up big as an elephant and he thinks he can catch it. About the 4th of November it will be as small as a little white mouse and they can't be caught.

—It is not always best to make mention of every strike that may occur at a manufacturing industry. But the strike which occurred in the puddling department of the nail works about ten days ago, now promises to be a prolonged one. It is said the company refuses to give the advance demanded and the prospects at present are that the works may be idle all summer. It is to be hoped, however, that such will not be the case.

—In writing up a notice for a church festival a neighboring editor said; "Music and refreshments, both appetizing and delicious, will be served in super abundance and a collection, for the benefit of the church, will be taken up to which all are cordially invited and urged to attend." Was it the festival or the collection they were urged to attend, is the question?

Snow Shoe Happenings

Our young friend, DeLaune Stewart, has been very busy as Census Enumerator in Burnside and part of Snow Shoe townships.

After nearly a year's absence, Miss Mary Beetes has returned to her home at Pine Glen, from an extended trip to Philadelphia, Lancaster and Wilmington.

The M. E. Sunday School picnic will be held on the seventh inst. A royal time is expected.

Mr. D. M. Butts and son Edward, of Bellefonte, spent part of last week in the "Shoe."

A very pleasant party arrived in our town, for part of the summer, composed of Mrs. Best and daughter, Mrs. Atkins and two interesting children, all of Washington D. C.,

Last week Snow Shoe awakened to the fact that we had an embryo poet in our midst. We do not know what futur greatness is in store for him.

The primary school surprised their teacher with a donation, raised among themselves, of money enough to papee their room. Quite commendablr when their youth is considered. Aged from six to ten.

Mr. James Zimmerman and family returned from a visit to Lock Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Knocke, of Harrisburg are the guests of O. M. Sheets.

The yard of Squire Haynes presents a very changed appearance, being all newly sodded—a great improvement.

Our genial young friend, Dr. White, spent a few days in our burg. Some attraction surely.

Our fellow townsman, J. G. Uzzle, proprietor of the Washington House, gave us a very pleasant serenade with his handsome new music box.

Mrs. Thos. McCann, of this place, spent the 4th in Tyrone.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will give a festival for the benefit of the Sunday school fund, on the evenings of the 17th and 18th inst. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Master Curtie Glenn, of Altoona, is visiting his many friends here. He is a general favorite.

Mr. George Rote, of Clarence, spent his 4th in Bellefonte.

Mr. Lathrop and family, of Wilkesbarre, are the guests of Dr. Stewart. They were formerly residents of this place.

The remains of the little daughter of Mr Miller of Denver, Col., were interred in the Union cemetery on Sunday last. The father arrived in Snow Shoe on Saturday. The circumstances were peculiarly sad, the father being on the Pacific coast at the time of the death of the beautiful little darling of his household. We extend them our heartfelt sympathy.

FIDELES.

Death's Doings.

Died in Union township, on July 2 1890: Bessie L., infant daughter of Wm. and Nancy Wortz, from Ehrenfeld Station, Cambria Co. Mr. Wortz intended to spend the Fourth on a visit to his friends in Centre County, and his wife, a daughter of Reuben Iddings, came ahead several days with their children, when little Bessie took cholera infantum which soon ended in death. Her remains were laid to rest in the Lower Union Cemetery on the 3d inst. Rev. Zeigler officiating. She was aged 8 months and 13 days.

On the 4th of July, 1890, John M., infant son of William and Ella Wagner, of Boggs township, near Snow Shoe Intersection, became ill suddenly—was taked with convulsions—and soon died, aged 4 months and 12 days. His remains were conveyed to the Bellefonte cemetery on Sunday the 6th inst accompanied by a large number of relatives of the bereaved parents led by Rev. J Zeigler. These afflicted parents all share our sympathies.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses issued during the past week:

Allen G Keller, of Renovo, and Maggie L Fye, of Moshannon.

William Snyder, of Elk county, and Ellen Turner, of Mt. Eagle.

James A Bair, of Glenn Hope, and Abbie C Osman, of Port Matilda.

Lem Mitchell and Lillie E Sensel, both of Unionville.

Edwin M Straub and Sarah J Kern, both of Bellefonte.

The New Postal Card.

The new postal cards, which will shortly be printed, are two sizes—an idea of the postmaster general—the bigger ones, which have twice the area of the present postal cards, being intended for business communications that cannot very well be crowded, and for other purpose demanding space. Both kinds have in the right hand upper corner, instead of the representation of a stamp, a small portrait of General Grant.

Two Church Gatherings.

This evening the ladies of the Methodist church will hold a church sociable in the lecture room of the M. E. church. Don't forget to attend as W. J. Swoope, Esq., will be there and do some reciting; Miss Stott will sing solos and there will be other music to listen to as well as an art gallery to look at.

On Friday evening, at seven o'clock, the young ladies of the Beaver Band will hold a social in the Presbyterian chapel. There will be lots of music and refreshments will be served. A collection will be taken up. All are cordially invited to attend.

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Bertha Haupt of this place spent the Fourth in Tyrone.

Mr. J. A. Finkbinder was in Williamsport over Sunday.

Mr. F. P. Barron, of Altoona spent the Fourth in Bellefonte.

Capt. W. F. Reber returned to Bellefonte on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. R. A. Kinsloe, of Philipsburg, is visiting relatives in this place.

Mrs. John Coolidge, of Scranton, Pa., is visiting relatives in this place.

Mr. Harry Keller of Harrisburg spent Sunday at his home in this place.

Miss Naylon of Renovo, is the guest of the Misses Curry, on Logan, street.

Hon. Samuel Reynolds and his daughter, Miss Maud, are visiting relatives in town.

Mr. Harry G. DeSylva was one of the Bellefonters who spent the 4th in Williamsport.

Mrs. S. P. Swoope and Mrs. Van-Valkenburgh have gone to Curwensville for a several weeks visit.

Miss Victorine Lyon is at home again after an absence of several months spent in Philadelphia.

Mr. Richard Garman has been sojourning at his father's home in this place for the past week.

Mr Al. Kline, the good looking clerk in Green's drug store, spent a very pleasant Fourth in Howard.

Miss Annie Cleaver, after a week's absence, is again to be found at her post of duty in the Fountain office.

We notice that our esteemed friend and fellow townsman, Hon. James Milliken, has returned from Dakota.

Miss Grace and Louisa Armor, after spending a few days in Lock Haven, returned home on Monday evening.

Dr. E. W. Hale, after a protracted siege of sickness, is again able to be out of the house. We hope for his entire recovery.

Miss Lizzie Detweiler, of Williamsport, is spending the summer months the guest of Mr. George Case, of Howard street.

Mr. James H Mitchell, of this place, is now at Pine Grove Mills visiting his brother John B Mitchell and seeing to interests of his farm.

Miss Mollie Cooke one of Philipsburgs, pleasant and agreeable young ladies, spent Sunday with her many friends in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McHugh, of Hastings, Cambria county, are at present in Bellefonte, at Mrs. McHugh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, on Bishop street.

The Tyrone Herald says Miss Lillie Smith, of Hollidaysburg, and Mr. J. R. Rose, of Bellefonte, spent Tuesday night with Dr. J. M. Smith and family, on Juniata street.

Misses Blanche and Jennie Fauble and Miss Rosie Baum, of this place, departed for Philipsburg on Tuesday morning where they will remain for some time visiting friends.

Mr. Jacob Baum of this place, after an absence of six years in the far West, returned home this morning expecting to remain several weeks when he will depart again for the West.

Mrs. William Laurie returned on Wednesday afternoon from the sea shore. She was accompanied by her neice, Miss Alice Pendleton, of Philadelphia, who will visit at the home of the former in this place.

Mrs. Constance Hill, formerly Miss Richards, and two children arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday night and will spend a few weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Richards, on East Linn street.

Mr. William Burnsides, who is now located in Pittsburg, arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday night and will spend the next two weeks visiting his friends and relatives in this place. Will is as handsome as ever and looks as if Pittsburg life agrees with him.

Prof. G. W. Van, representing the Celebrated "Battle of Gettysburg," is in Bellefonte to-day making arrangements for the exhibition of his Cycloramo, which will be put up on the Stone school house grounds, on Linn street. The exhibition will open on Friday evening and continue one week.

Mrs. Robert Mills and little daughter Olive left here this morning on the 9 o'clock train for Bellefonte, Centre Hall, Spring Mills, and other places on a visit of several weeks duration. During their trip they expect to explore the cavernous depths of the celebrated Penn's creek cave, which has become the resort of hundreds of visitors.—Lock Haven Democrat

—In our report of the election of officers of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, which appeared in the NEWS on Saturday last, James A. McClain was represented as being elected to the office of High Priest. It should have read J. I. McClure, as Mr. McClain is not a member of the organization.

They Wouldn't Answer.

United States Commissioner Bentley, of Williamsport, has been during the past few days issuing warrants for citizens in Supervisor Bricker's district who refused to answer the questions of the census enumerators, and the prospects are that the United States will be $500 better off, as the law imposes $100 each on persons over twenty years of age for so refusing.

On Saturday he issued a warrant for the arrest of William Smith, a farmer, residing in Cascade township, this county, on complaint of Isaac H Southard, the enumerator for that township, who was thus instructed to act by Supervisor Bricker. The warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Marshall Simon Yeager, who started after his man this morning.

He has also issued warrants for the arrests of Richard Roe, so called, and Richard Smith, so called, Hungarians, of Port Matilda, Centre county, on complaint of Mr. Bricker.

Warrants have also been issued by Commissioner Bentley for John Doe, so called, and John Smith, so called, two other Hungarians, who live at or near Bellefonte, on complaint of the Supervisor. The last four warrants have been placed in the hands of Marshal Barring, of Wilkesbarre, and all the guilty parties will doubtless have a hearing before Commissioner Bentley within the next few days.

Blown Up With Dynamite.

Last Saturday night a culvert on the Beech Creek railroad near Gazzam, was blown up with dynamite. The culvert is near the western terminus of the Beech Creek railroad, and the noise of the explosion was heard in the village of Kermoose. The Williamsport Sun says:

A party of men, including several railroad employes, proceeded down the track to investigate the cause of the noise. It was found that the noise was caused by an explosion at a culvert over which the Beech Creek tracks passed about a mile east of Gazzam. The miscreants had placed dynamite under the end of the culvert and exploded it, tearing up the end of the structure. The railroad ties were dislodged and thrown around in a promiscuous manner and the rails were bent and twisted in an ugly manner. Another charge of dynamite was found under the other end of the culvert, and it is supposed that it was the intention of the scoundrels too put this off too, but for some reason it failed to explode. Had the destruction of the track not been discovered before the train left Gazzam in the morning a frightful accident would have occurred. The villains who perpetrated this act should be hunted down and punished. They are more than murderers.
